The Latest—Not Too Good
A Coolidge Miracle
Free Love Is Bad
Optimism and Work

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE very latest last night from Mexico was not pleasant. Mexican soldiers in Guadalajara fired shots in the air, indicating annoyance, when stopped in their march against the American colonists. Mexican students "will stand with Calles in his battle against the northern Colossus. Uncle Sam is the Colossus.

Many more are killed in Mexican revolutions.

The Russian woman envoy to Mexico flatly denies the truth of President Coolidge's statement about bolshevik propaganda in Latin America. She says: "We are innocent."

• • •

THE pope denies the charge by President Calles that Catholics have started rebellion in Mexico and says that Catholics have shown great moderation.

This country sends the Fifth Regiment of Marines to concentrate at the Panama naval base for "emergency" service. Two more fighting ships are going to Nicaragua, and La Prensa, powerful Argentine paper, reflects South American public opinion in calling President Coolidge's message "an unpardonable utterance."

• • •

DISPATCHES from Mexico City report business almost paralyzed, a serious crisis threatening the Mexican banks and Mexico. Many say that a state of President Calles is in the state of President Coolidge. Others think a conflict between Mexico and the United States inevitable.

It is dangerous to attack RELIGION in Mexico, the HEART and the POCKET, at the same time.

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN CLEMENTS of Missouri says, nothing short of a political miracle can stop President Coolidge's renomination and reelection in 1928." The only question is: Does President Coolidge want the nomination?

There is no third term question involved. Mr. Coolidge has been elected ONCE. George Washington's example was to prevent presidents using power of patronage to force renominations and elections. 1928 will be President Coolidge's SECOND electing term.

• • •

IS for a miracle defeating President Coolidge, you can imagine even things that are impossible. No miracle could make a six-week-old calf five minutes, for if made in five minutes it wouldn't be six weeks old.

• • •

BILL sues for a Methodist bishop demands a divorce because his wife indulges in a new, strange, abhorrent form of "free love."

It is strange, it is abhorrent, but it is not new. Monkeys entertained that way before there were any men on earth, and lower animals had it before monkeys came. That is part of the animal inheritance out of which we have been slowly climbing, pushed upward by the institution of marriage and the will of women.

FLORIDA has chosen "Optimism and Work" as the state slogan, following the big wind and a temporary land slump. It's an excellent slogan, provided if you put the heavy accent on "Work."

Florida's future is assured as one of the great national sun parlors. Incidentally, at this moment you can't, for love or money or pull, engage rooms for a season at the big Palm Beach hotels.

• • •

ANOTHER good slogan for Florida would be "Give us men like S. Davies Warfield." Transportation is to a state what blood is to the body. Mr. Warfield, a born fighter and successful in the face of vicious opposition, is forcing new branches of his seaboard air line system north, south, east and west in Florida, carrying passengers direct from the North to Miami without change of cars.

A far-sighted railroad man is as valuable to a state as a great governor, and as scarce.

DIGEL QUITS TO ACCEPT POST AT COLUMBUS

Superintendent and Matron of Marion County Children's Home Resign

SUCCESSORS NOT NAMED

Take Similar Positions with Franklin County Home; Leave in 30 Days

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Digel, superintendent and matron, respectively, of the Marion County Children's Home for more than four years, today tendered their joint resignation to trustees of the institution.

Both have accepted similar positions with the Franklin County Children's Home, Columbus, at a substantial increase in salary, it was announced. Their successors here have not been named.

Trustees of the local home were scheduled to meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the office of Michael Waddell at the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co., 116 S. Main-st. to act on the resignation.

Ask For Raise

In announcing their resignation Mr. and Mrs. Digel explained that they had petitioned trustees for a $300 increase in salary per year and that their joint request had been refused.

The annual joint salary for superintendent and matron of the local institution is $1,800 a year. This wage scale has been effect ever since Mr. and Mrs. Digel took charge of the home Nov. 11, 1922.

In their work at the Franklin County Children's Home Mr. Digel will receive a salary of $1,800 a year and Mrs. Digel, as matron, will be paid $1,200 a year, making the joint salary $3,000.

While it has not been definitely settled when Mr. and Mrs. Digel will terminate their work with the local home, Mr. Digel announced today that he had agreed to take charge of the Franklin County Home within the next 30 days.

Mr. Digel said today that he has offered to look after the books and records of the local home as a convenience to trustees until his and Mrs. Digel's successors can be named. Trustees were scheduled to act on this offer at the meeting this afternoon.

Since the establishment of the home on Jan. 8, 1902, up until Nov. 11, 1922, when Mr. and Mrs. Digel took charge, 495 children were admitted. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Digel 265 have been admitted, bringing the total up to 751.

92 in Home

There were 24 children in the home when Mr. and Mrs. Digel took charge. Today there are 92 in the home, according to the figures submitted by Superintendent Digel. The daily average in the home in 1922 was 32 children. During the year just closed the daily average was 79.

At the Franklin County Children's Home there are 137 children and approximately 23 employes.

Mr. and Mrs. Digel succeeded Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Black as heads of the local home. Before coming to Marion Mr. Digel was employed as a school teacher in a small town in New York State. He had formerly served with the Lima State Hospital and during the Mexican Border Dispute served in the United States Army with the rank of sergeant major.

Mr. Digel is a graduate of Ohio Northern University, Ada. After leaving school he taught for a short time near Ada, later accepting a position as high school instructor in a small town near Ada.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT IS ATTACKED BY PAPER

Charges "Reign of Terror" Exists; Says Trials Not Held

Mexico City, Jan. 14—The Mexican government today continued its relentless pursuit of rebel forces, undeterred by the editorial attack in the newspaper, Excelsior, charging that a "reign of terror" exists and that both military and civil authorities are putting Mexicans to death without proper trial.

The government, according to the Excelsior, has denied its responsibility for alleged atrocity in Leon, where five young boys are alleged to have been summarily executed in barbarous fashion, one of the lads having his tongue cut out when he offered up a prayer to his Maker.

Excelsior's editorial attack declares that "respect for human life has disappeared completely in this country," and adds that "executions by shooting are the order of the day."

The newspaper declares that the federal and state governments are responsible for these "atrocities," which will injure Mexico abroad.

Co-incident with this attack come reports of further hangings on the roads outside of Mexico City, where it is said by travelers nearly a score of bodies now dangle as a warning to those who may plan to rise against the government.

COLUMBUS BOX FACTORY BURNS; LOSS OF $20,000

Columbus, Jan. 14—State and city fire officials today were investigating an early morning fire which destroyed the lumber box factory of J. E. Hardesty, Grandview, with an approximate loss of $20,000.

Cause of the fire has not been determined. One fireman was overcome by smoke, but his condition is not serious.

ANNE NICHOLS MAKES MILLIONS OUT OF "ABIE"

Anne Nichols, above, writer and producer of "Abie's Irish Rose," which, as it passes its 2,000th performance in New York City is reported sold to the movies for $2,000,000. All companies acting the play have grossed approximately $20,000,000 — the net for Miss Nichols being estimated at $5,000,000. Inset is of Miss Evelyn Nichols, sister of the producer, who has acted in the play since the first performance.

SPEAKER DROPS FIGHT FOR VINDICATION, CLAIM

Tris' Attorney Says Nothing Further To Be Done for Time Being

Cleveland, Jan. 14—Tris Speaker today virtually abandoned his fight for vindication by Commissioner K. M. Landis, of charges that he was implicated in a "thrown" baseball game.

This was indicated in an announcement by William H. Boyd, Speaker's attorney, who declared that, for the time-being, at least, nothing further would be done in the matter, in the hope that Landis would voluntarily absolve Tris of the charges.

"We confidently expect that in due time, Judge Landis will do the fair thing," Boyd told International News Service.

"We believe that at the proper time the commissioner will clear up the whole matter."

COBB'S ATTORNEY DENIES REPORT

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 14—J. O. Murfin, attorney for Ty Cobb, today denied reports from Chicago that Cobb and Tris Speaker would drop their fight for vindication.

"I won't be rushed by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis into any precipitate action and I'll vindicate Ty Cobb eventually, no matter what Landis or anybody else thinks," Murfin said.

FORD-DODGE FEUD TOLD GOVERNMENT TAX SUIT

Former Revenue Collector on Stand Details Fight Between Motor Magnates

Detroit, Jan. 14—The Ford-Dodge feud which flared up before John F. and Horace Dodge forced Henry Ford to divide the gigantic profits of the Ford Motor Co. with stockholders, became part of the record today in the hearing of the government's suit to recover $34,000,000 from former Ford stockholders.

Percy S. Talbert, of Washington, former deputy commissioner of internal revenue, was today's star witness. He testified that in 1919, the late James J. Brady, then collector of internal revenue in Detroit, visited the internal revenue bureau at Washington and explained that "a bad situation exists in Detroit due to the feud between Henry Ford and the Dodge brothers."

FOUND GUILTY

Prominent Gallia County Farmer Convicted of Manslaughter

Gallipolis, Jan. 14—A jury found Percy C. Cadwell, prominent Gallia County farmer, guilty of manslaughter in the killing of Roger Johnson, a tenant of Cadwell's on a farm near Cheshire City.

The trial had provoked over a crop of excitement, and had aroused an interest throughout Gallia county that was unprecedented in the history of the county.

BANK DEPOSITS AND RESOURCES CLIMB, STATEMENTS SHOW

Six Local Financial Houses Have Increase of $901,247 in Resources During 1926; Deposits Increased $807,159; Telephone Co. Sale Enlarges Deposits

Deposits in the six Marion banks on Dec. 31, 1926, totalled $807,159.72 more than on the same date in 1925, comparison of annual statements for the two years disclosed today.

While a large part of this increase was due to receipt of funds during the closing month of 1926 from sale of the Marion County Telephone Co. property all of the banks report a substantial normal growth in deposits throughout the year.

The exact amount coming in as a result of the telephone company transaction has not been made public but approximate estimates made by persons conversant with terms of the sale place December payments to stockholders at a half million dollars.

Shortly after Jan. 1 first checks were mailed to stockholders of the local company for stock deposited for transfer prior to Dec. 27. At the time this distribution was made, it was announced that more than half of the stock had been transferred to the United Telephone Co. of Chicago, purchaser of the local company, and that payment had been made by the Chicago concern.

Million Dollar Deal

It is reliably reported that more than a million dollars is involved in the sale. Another payment is to be made to stockholders in the local company on Jan. 15 and as practically all of the stock has now been deposited for transfer, this payment will virtually close the transaction. The Marion National Bank is acting as fiscal agent in working out the final details of the sale.

In addition to the $807,159.72 increase in deposits, which was in connection with checking accounts of business firms and individuals as well as funds covered by certificates of deposit, there was an increase of $9,241.01 in savings accounts.

A total of the balance sheets of the banks on Dec. 31 of last year shows that combined resources of the six local financial institutions increased $901,247.40 during 1926.

Resources totalled $9,512,398.41, the largest amount in local banking history.

Loans Increase

Loans of all classes, including those made on real estate mortgages, collateral security and for the financing of local business and industrial enterprises, totalled $6,377,659.97 at the close of last year, an increase of $292,729.52 over the same date in 1925.

In addition, practically all of the banks have extensive investments in government bonds, including both federal and municipal, the total of this item being above the half million dollar mark.

Representatives of all Marion banks report that 1926 was an exceptionally prosperous year in local financial circles and that there is practical assurance of this healthful condition continuing during 1927.

Figures showing the increase in resources, deposits and loans during 1926 were obtained today from a comparison of annual statements filed with the state banking department.

MARION MAN IN HOSPITAL AFTER SHOOTING FRAY

Police Seeking Italian Who Wounded Fellow Roomer During Argument

Vincenzo Marsilio, 35, is in the City Hospital with two bullet wounds in his abdomen, and Sam Cancro, 42, is sought by the police as the wounded man's alleged assailant as the result of a shooting which occurred about 6 o'clock last night at the home of Mrs. Quintilla Sica, 203 E. George-st, where the two men roomed together.

Although one of the bullets lodged in Marsilio's abdomen and has not been removed, and the other passed completely through his body, his condition is not regarded as critical and he is expected to recover, according to reports from the hospital.

The two men, who are employed as steam fitters at the Erie roundhouse, had quarreled over money matters, it is reported, and this is believed to have resulted in the shooting. The weapon used by Cancro is believed to have been a 32-caliber revolver.

Witnessed by Girl

Antonietta Sica, 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Quantilla Sica, was in the downstairs room where the shooting occurred and was the only witness. Her screams brought Mrs. Sica to the room and when she arrived, Cancro had fled. Police were summoned and Marsilio was taken to the Hospital where his wounds were dressed by Dr. F. V. Murphy.

Police expect to have little difficulty in capturing Cancro, as he has money on deposit in a local bank and it is believed that he will return for the purpose of obtaining the funds.

Papers found in the room occupied by the two men at the Sica home show that both have been exceptionally thrifty. Each has savings in banks here and in Italy amounting to several thousand dollars, it is claimed, documents in the hands of police indicating that Cancro's account in a government bank in Italy totals more than $6,000.

Both Married

Both men are married and letters found in their rooms show that they have been making remittances regularly to their families in Italy.

The shooting victim is well known among Erie employes as "Jimmie" Marsilio. He has been employed here about eight years. Cancro's acquaintance is more limited, due to the fact that he has been in Marion only a comparatively short time. Both are dependable workmen, however, Erie roundhouse officials say, and have always been regarded as peaceable and law-abiding.

Both Cancro and Marsilio have applications for naturalization papers pending.

He escaped trial for the alleged killing of one bootlegger and wounding another last year by having the cases transferred to federal jurisdiction, where the government defended his acts.

Cleveland, Jan. 14—Joseph Abramvitz, hardware merchant, of Youngstown, pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury and was sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary, in federal court here today.

APPROVE BOND ISSUE FOR MARION WATER CO.

Money To Be Used for Extensions, Improvements and New Softening Plant

Approval of a bond issue totaling $303,500 by the Marion Water Co. was given by the state public utilities commission today, according to word from Columbus.

Application for this issue, which is to be of six per cent bonds amounting to $229,500, and cumulative seven per cent preferred stock to the amount of $84,000, was made sometime ago, according to George Whysall, general manager of the water company. Most of the funds from the bond issue will go into improvements, some of which are under way and others now being estimated and planned.

The largest single item in the bond issue covers the $157,000 to be used for the new water softening plant, estimates for which are now being made. This work will be started sometime this year, it is expected. Other sections of the bond issue include:

Reimbursement of treasury and improvements to plant, $100,080; organization, $16,628, extension and improvements to facilities, $32,000, and the rest of the money for miscellaneous improvements.

BLIZZARD RACES EASTWARD, ZERO WEATHER DUE

Five Dead in Chicago as Result of Accidents in Heavy Snow

TRAINS ARE HELD UP

Cold Wave Due To Strike Marion Tonight, Forecast Shows

Chicago, Jan. 14—The mid winter blizzard that buried Chicago under a foot of snow, paralyzed transportation and brought death and injury to a score of citizens, had vacated the middle west today and is now racing toward the Atlantic seaboard states. Zero weather will follow in its wake, according to Weather Bureau forecasts.

The storm was general over the middle and far western parts of the country. Nearly two-thirds of the area of the United States today is covered under a blanket of snow, ranging in depth from three to 15 inches.

Five persons are dead in Chicago as a result of accidents directly caused by the heavy snow. A force of 15,000 men were unable to keep the streets and lanes of transportation open.

Trains Behind Schedule

Serious interruptions to traffic are reported from all sections of the affected area. Railroad trains were running far behind schedule. Motor traffic in some instances was at a complete standstill owing to the drifted conditions of the highways. Air mail service out of Chicago has been temporarily suspended.

Wire communication over the affected districts is so badly crippled that no accurate account of conditions or the extent of suffering and hardship can be obtained.

"The storm in the middle states is now passing rapidly to the eastward," says the weather forecast. "Another storm is pushing in from the north Pacific region. The cold area lies between these two storms which will cover the northwestern states with temperatures ranging from zero to 10 below."

COLD WAVE TO STRIKE MARION

Fair and cold tonight, with a sharp drop in the temperature in the southern part of the state, is the weather outlook for tonight and Saturday. Saturday will be fair with no lifting of the low temperatures, the weatherman said. The southern part of the state will get the stiffest part of the cold wave, with the entire state in the path of low temperature wave from the west.

Half an inch of snow fell last night, after the rain ceased. The mercury got up to 38 degrees yesterday afternoon, and the sudden warmth started a slight fall of rain in the afternoon, which changed to snow. Freezing as it fell the snow and rain covered up most of the treacherous ice on the sidewalks and made walking much safer.

A year ago today the cold wave was still felt in this section, although the mercury had crept up from near zero to a low mark of nine degrees. The low mark last night was 17 degrees, and the high mark yesterday was 28 degrees.

OHIO WARNED OF COMING COLD WAVE

Columbus, Jan. 14—Look for the mercury in the bottom of the tube when you look at the thermometer Saturday morning, Weatherman W. H. Alexander warned Ohio residents today.

Medicine Hat is sending a 20 degree temperature drop over Montana and the Dakotas into plains states and the eastern lake states.

Snow will be absent from the cold wave in Ohio, Alexander predicts, and light to moderate winds will follow in its wake.

The cold wave will be felt in all sections of Ohio, West Virginia and the middle west in general, Alexander declared.

COUNCILMEN PRUNING BUDGET TO FIT INCOME

Finance Committee at Work Today; Council To Pass Appropriations Tonight

Faced with the necessity of keeping estimates for 1927 expenses down to the lowest possible figure, heads of the various municipal offices and departments this morning completed the work of preparing their annual budgets in preparation for a session on the city's annual appropriation ordinance, which is to come before Council tonight.

The finance committee of Council, headed by D. E. Pontius as chairman, is to discuss the different items with the various officials and employes during the session that is to be held in Council room at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Director of Public Service and Safety Department and police department heads are expected to appear before the city dads tonight, as special orders have been issued to that effect.

The budget hearings, which are expected to last several days, will be held in the Council room each night this week, it was announced today. Each department head will be given a certain time to appear before the committee, it was announced.

Estimates for 1927 expenses are expected to be considerably lower than those for 1926, it was indicated today. Many of the departments have been able to cut down their estimates for the coming year by many as upwards of $1,000 this year.

The budget hearings are the first step in the preparation of the city's annual appropriation ordinance, which is to be passed by Council before the end of January. Under the provisions of the new charter, the ordinance must be passed by Council before February 1.

SACASA TELLS U. S. TO REMOVE MARINE FORCE

Nicaraguan Rebel Leader Threatens To Appeal for Aid Against Yanks

NOTE TO KELLOGG

Little Enthusiasm for Borah's Recommendations Found in Senate

Mexico City, Jan. 14—Immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Nicaragua under threat of an appeal to the Spanish-American nations for military aid to repel the Yanks invasion, has been demanded by Dr. Juan Sacasa, leader of the Nicaraguan rebels, in a note to United States Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, according to a dispatch from Guatemala, received here.

The Guatemala dispatch states that it is based upon information received from the Sacasa headquarters.

Washington, Jan. 14—Little enthusiasm was manifested today in official quarters for the peace plan put forward by Senator William E. Borah in an effort to smooth away the administration's troublesome difficulties in Nicaragua and Mexico.

Borah suggested, first, that a new election be held in Nicaragua, with U. S. marines acting as umpires to insure a fair count; and, second, that the controversy with Mexico over her new land and petroleum laws be submitted to arbitration.

Definite commitments as to the administration's attitude were difficult to obtain today, but it was evident that the state department is cold to both proposals. In Nicaragua, Secretary of State Kellogg has decreed that Adolfo Diaz is the constitutional president of the country, and has sent marines and warships there to keep him in power against Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, who is recognized by Mexico as the constitutional head of the republic. Kellogg has maintained that a constitutional principle is at stake. Hence, any compromise by way of a new election might be interpreted as an abandonment of that principle.

Fear "Comeback"

In Mexico, the controversy hinges about the constitution of the country, and the state department is loath to submit a constitutional question to arbitration by The Hague, because it would establish a precedent that might come back to plague the United States. The government has always taken the position that a constitution, at least the American constitution, can not be arbitrated. If it now should accept the principle that the Mexican constitution can be, it might be interpreted as an abandonment of its age-old stand. Also, it was pointed out, the State Department contends the Mexican land laws are confiscatory and that involves another principle.

Broadly speaking the State Department's attitude is that "principles can not be arbitrated."

Meanwhile, as the senate wrangles in criticism and defense of the Kellogg policy in both countries, the marines in Nicaragua are proceeding steadily about the business of occupying the country.

Marines in Control

At the direction of the state department, the marines are pursuing a campaign of "complete saturation" in Nicaragua. They now occupy and control the entire coast lines of the country, Pacific and Atlantic, and are steadily occupying new towns in the interior.

It will not be many days, at the present rate of expansion, until they control every city of any size in the little republic.

As fast as they occupy, they declare neutral zones and thin disarm both the Diaz and Sacasa forces. The Sacasa

WOLFE RITES SATURDAY

ROBERT F. WOLFE

Columbus, Jan. 14—Funeral services for Robert F. Wolfe, publisher of the Ohio State Journal and the Columbus Dispatch and one of the leading figures in the business and political life of Ohio, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday, at Broad Street Presbyterian Church here, it was announced today.

Wolfe was killed at noon yesterday in an accidental fall from a window in his office in the Columbus Dispatch building to the street five floors beneath.

Rev. S. S. Palmer, will officiate at the services, and burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery here.

Today messages of sympathy and condolences were pouring in from all sections of the nation to members of the family and associates of the dead publisher.

President Coolidge, former Governor James M. Cox, Governor Vic Donahey; M. Koenigsberg, president of International News Service; Andrew Squire, noted Cleveland attorney; J. R. Paper Wants Congress to Be On Job Continually

And, Nearly Everybody Else Wants Complete Rest from Legislators

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—"Labor", official Washington organ of the railroad brotherhoods, comes out with the suggestion that congress ought to stay in session nearly all the time.

CAPITOL DOME

This is entirely a new idea. The usually accepted theory always has been that the whole country breathes more easily the minute congress adjourns. The commonly heard complaint is that when it's on the job it can't refrain from passing laws, that we have too many already and that it would be a mercy if we could go for about ten years without a single fresh piece of national legislation.

"Labor" makes the point that even too many laws are better than letting the executive branch of the government go it alone for too long at a time.

THE attitude of all the presidents suggests that maybe there is something in view.

Never one of them but always has considered congress a first class nuisance. Congress interferes with a president the worst way. Even if he has a big majority in both houses there's bound to be some opposition to him and his policies. It criticizes. It may be able to accomplish no more than that, but at least it makes the chief executive watch his step.

With congress against him the White House tenant's life becomes a burden. Even one of the two houses out of presidential control gums his cards and blocks his game.

IT'S noticeable that most big presidential stunts are initiated during congressional recesses or between sessions.

The president can start pretty much anything he pleases when congress is away. He may not be able to finish it by himself, but if he gives it a good enough start the lawmakers may very easily have to keep it going when they get back, or the president calls them back, whether they like it or not.

"Labor" doesn't think any president should be permitted to get to have in mind what congress can't veto it if it thinks he's wrong.

FOR instance, congress took only a 10-day recess over the holidays, left supposing everything was quiet along the Potomac and, came back to find marines landed in Nicaragua, warships maneuvering all over the Gulf of Mexico, the Mexican republic in a ferment and most of Latin America more or less by the ears.

If all that could happen during a 10-day congressional recess, what can't happen during the long gap between March 4 and Dec. 1?—unless there's an extra session.

Congress can still ask, "What made you land those marines?" but there they are. It would have been a lot more effective if it had been in a position to say, "Wait until you've explained what you're going to land 'em for."

WHAT the administration would do right now, if it could, would be to get the present congress to vote money to run the government, not for the next year alone, but for the next two years, or until the end of President Coolidge's term.

He won't be able to manage the 70th congress, for the senate will be against him, but if he doesn't have to ask it for funds, neither will it be able to manage him.

However, this won't happen. It's been hinted at, but the idea didn't "take". Even the 68th senate, which is pretty independent itself, balked.

WOMEN GAINING ON MEN IN LITERARY FIELD

Writer Says Honors in Literature Soon Will Be Divided Evenly

Chicago, Jan. 14—Men have almost twice as much chance of succeeding in a literary career as women, according to Glen H. Winship, novelist, in an address here before a convention of club women. The ratio, however, is rapidly changing.

"Study of 180 successful novelists," said Mr. Winship, "revealed that 114, or 64 per cent, were men, while 66 of the writers, or 36 per cent, were women. These figures include both American and British authors.

"Greater success of men in literature is partly due to the fact that they have been at the task centuries longer than women. The first successful woman novelist did not appear until 1803. She was Jane Porter who wrote 'Thaddeus of Warsaw' a best seller of its day. The first American woman to gain international prominence as a novelist was Catherine Sedgwick, who began writing about 1825.

"Women have been too busy drudging in the kitchen, caring for children and looking after their homes to assert themselves seriously in literature up to the present time, but it is logical to assume that the percentage of successful women novelists will soon be as great as that of men."

DOUBLE O SOOT DESTROYER

Why Waste Fuel?

Of all sources of preventable waste, that of the formation of soot on the fire surface of the heating system is the most troublesome. Soot is all but the best heat insulator known. In non-conducting properties it has been proved to be more than five times as effective as fine asbestos.

American Couples Separated by Paris Tribunal

Paris, Jan. 14—The Seine tribunal has granted a divorce to Mrs. Frances Burton Harrison, the former Salena Elizabeth Wrentmore.

Harrison was formerly governor general of the Philippines Islands and his marriage to his present wife, who is considerably his junior, occasioned considerable comment in social circles.

Divorces were also granted to Mrs. Lacias Mahon, the former Charlotte Crosby Barnet, who was married at Ft. Plain, N. Y., Sept. 1, 1915, and also to John Randal Powelson, from Evelyn Allen, of New York.

CHARLEYS FILMS O K; AIMEE DUE IN DAYTON

No Support Given Proposals To Bar Pictures; Evangelist There Three Days

Dayton, Jan. 14 — Films in which Charley Chaplin is starred will continue to be seen on the screen in Dayton, in spite of the seriousness of the charges preferred by Mrs. Chaplin in her suit for divorce.

Sporadic suggestions to bar Chaplin productions failed to meet any well-founded support.

Members of the city administration indicated strongly they would make no requirements on the movie man.

The Dayton Council of Churches, usually quick to take the lead in any movement of like character, has done nothing thus far and spokesmen for that organization said nothing would be done by the body.

Simultaneously with that announcement came the statement that Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles, central figure in a conspiracy episode, would be here for a three day, "four square" gospel campaign, Feb. 1, 2 and 3. Her telegram accepting the invitation of a local church to visit Dayton confirmed tentative arrangements.

Ohio Director of Agriculture Truax refers to the so-called farm leaders "who ramble about the country idly chattering that the farmer must work out his own salvation" as "political parrots." Lest there be possible misapprehension, however, it may be well to state that not all the political parrots are limited to the so-called farm leader variety. There are others.

A dog under the observation of scientists at Northwestern university has shown the way to humans who lose their stomachs from disease or any other cause. For two years this dog has lived in apparent good health and been spry and lively though it has no stomach. It eats its food slowly, masticating it thoroughly, often taking twelve hours out of the twenty-four for its meals. Northwestern scientists say it has pointed the way to sufferers from cancer of the stomach and demonstrated that the stomach may be removed without fatal results provided the human kind can exercise the patience and care of self manifested by the canine.

Of No Benefit to Baseball.

Sporting writers incline to the view that the finding of Judge Landis in connection with the Risberg and Gandil charges presages the acquittal of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker of the charges pending against them.

It is not for us to speak of this week's finding of the baseball czar, for the reason that we are not acquainted with all the facts in the case and can not see it as it was presented to Judge Landis. He has washed clean the players accused of sloughing games. Some may feel inclined to call it a whitewash, but let us assume that the finding is one of merit rendered upon the weight of the evidence and not on the weight of numbers. Well and good.

But if Judge Landis makes a similar finding in the Cobb-Speaker matter, no matter how he may reach his conclusion, it will be a horse of a different color. The judge may be justified in clearing Cobb and Speaker, but such justification will be a serious reflection upon his handling of the case. The Risberg charges came up outside the agency of Judge Landis. He didn't go after them. They were sent to him. He may not have shown judgment in the handling of them, but let that pass. However, in the Cobb-Speaker matter he did considerable digging and raked up matters of years ago. He gave the results of his investigation to the world, preparing a statement of much length which dropped like a bombshell upon the sporting world. If his published statement was based on charges so flimsy and his preliminary investigation was so superficial that it will not stand, he used what we consider mighty poor judgment in getting into the spotlight with it. No matter what the outcome, it will work no benefit to baseball and serve only to add to the suspicion and distrust of the game. It seems to us the course of wisdom would have been to get down to brass tacks first and call out the brass band later on.

Judge Landis draws a salary of $65,000 for acting as czar of baseball. If the charges against Cobb and Speaker result as predicted, we feel that some one could have been secured to handle the matter fully as well, if not a lot better, for far less money.

Our New Motor Best Extant.

While the United States has been singularly remiss in the development of fighting aircraft, it has maintained a place in the development of aircraft motors and now has perfected a motor which experts who are acquainted with its merits say leads the world.

The new Wright motor, which has been referred to from time to time recently as the "Mystery Engine" was given a thorough testing at Patterson field by United States navy inspectors, three or four days ago, and developed 525 horsepower—which surpasses all previous records for air-cooled motors.

The new motor, which has been given the name, "Cyclone," was tested for fifty hours without developing the slightest structural or mechanical weakness. The test consisted of nine five-hour periods, four and a half hours of each of which were run at nine-tenths speed and the last half hour at full speed and one five-hour period—the last—at which the motor was run at full speed throughout.

The best pervious record was made by the French Gnome-Rhone motor, used on the Sikorsky plane which crashed and was destroyed, last fall, on the start of Captain Rene Fonck's attempt to cross the Atlantic, which developed 480 horsepower.

The new motor was well called the "Mystery Engine" in the past, for it is largely a mystery yet save that it is known that it is a radical departure from all former motors and exceeds all others in power. No information concerning its cubic displacement, its weight, its gas or oil consumption or its "motor speed" has been given out. It is to be used exclusively on planes of the United States army and navy, and is expected greatly to improve the performance of torpedo planes, bombing planes and long-distance scouting planes. For this reason the government is safeguarding all the details referred to, of which nothing is known to the world, as well as the details of its construction.

American inventive genius gave the world the first practical heavier-than-air flying machine, and today a number of powers have far outstripped us in its development. Today we have the finest and most powerful air-cooled motor extant. Let us hope that we will be less generous with it than we were with the aeroplane. A motor does not constitute an aeroplane, but how important it is was demonstrated during the war when almost untold millions and months upon months of experimentation were devoted to an adequate air-cooled engine. Let us retain in this instance the preeminence we have attained and utilize it to equip ourselves with an aerial navy commensurate with the place we hold among the nations of the earth.

You never can tell. Retribution may yet overtake "Ma" Ferguson. The 3,000 and more convicts she has released may start writing "poetry" about her.

What profiteth it us true aristocrats of the land to wait patiently on the curb for the green light only to be knocked down and run over by the devil-wagon coming around the corner from behind us?

We sincerely hope we may not, but should we send troops into Mexico let us hope again that no strings will be tied to them as was the case in our last invasion of Mexican territory.

An American hunting party reports finding the bodies of 142 rebels dangling from telegraph poles and trees near the railroad station of Ozumba, down in Mexico. Mexico, it may be said, is playing hand in hand with Moscow and has very largely adopted the bolshevikt ideas so dear to the red element in the "Federal Council of Churches of Christ" which would have this country disarm and become defenseless against the assaults of communism.

The government hesitates about altering our capital ships to give their guns greater elevation, owing to the protest of Great Britain. Yet it has been demonstrated that both Great Britain and Japan, in violation of the treaty by which Britain holds we are bound, have elevated the guns upon a number of their capital vessels. It might be well to hint to Great Britain that a complainant is expected to come into court with clean hands.

"The radio has come in for a lot of criticism," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning, "but my personal observation is that it usually works a heap sight better than the fellow who tries to 'operate' it."

Uncle Sam manifestly lacks the publicity initiative he once had. One hundred chair and refrigerator manufacturers have entered pleas of guilty and paid fines aggregating $500,000 and now 115 makers of and dealers in bed-room and dining-room furniture are being tried in Chicago for operating a combine and fixing prices, and yet we hardly hear of it. Think of how proceedings such as these would have been featured in the press back in the days when "trust-busting" publicity was at the zenith!

The Shipping board says our merchant marine can not survive, so long as our present shipping laws obtain, without a subsidy. If that's the situation, maybe it might not be bad policy to give it relief both ways by revising the one and providing the other.

Following close upon the action taken by the authorities in Washington, Mayor Jimmy Walker has ordered all commissioners of city departments having jurisdiction over newsvending concessions in parks, streets, ferry-slips, on docks or other property belonging to or controlled by the city of New York to bar the sale of all salacious magazines, many of which he pronounces "outrageous." Let us hope that his order is more than the mere gesture directed against the unclean plays in that city.

THE ANXIOUS SEAT.

Pint of Milk Urged for Young.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In the bureau of home economics of the United States government there is in process at present a very interesting study. It relates to the dislikes of children for certain foods.

There can be no doubt that the refusal of children to take some foods and the failure of parents to furnish substitutes may result in definite undernourishment of health. Bad food habits and practices can not be disregarded. They have much to do with undernourishment, with what we call malnutrition.

The signs of good and poor nutrition have been so well defined by the experts of the bureau that I wish to give you the results of their studies. Somewhat paraphrased, their conclusions are as follows:

They describe a well nourished child as one having an erect, sturdy and well developed body. The legs are straight and the shoulder blades flat. There is a full, rounded chest. The skin is firm and rosy and the teeth are strong and white.

The possession of an alert and happy mind is shown by the expression of the eyes and the good nature pictured in the face. Every movement expresses energy and abundant vigor. There is no sign of nervousness or undue irritability.

On the contrary, no such desirable qualities are observed in the undernourished child. The stooping body is not well padded with the flesh, which is pale and flabby.

The chest is narrow and flat. The shoulder blades stick out like the beginning of wings. Instead of lying straight, the legs are bowed or else knock-kneed.

The bad teeth and unshapely bones show that the feeding has been wrong. The right foods to form bone have not been given.

With the decayed teeth there may be foul breath. This is always a bad sign in a child. In health the breath is always sweet.

The undernourished child is listless, or extremely nervous and irritable. He appears dull and indifferent, or has a wistful look in his eyes and dark circles around them. He is very uncertain in his school work, being good at times, but usually below standard. Now and then this type of child has a storm of temper.

You will be interested in the views of the bureau as to the daily food needs of growing children. They want the child to have at least a pint of milk. Potatoes and two other vegetables should be given. If possible, tomatoes or a leafy vegetable should be included.

Two kinds of fruit are recommended. One kind must be fresh, but the other can be dried or canned, if expense is to be considered. A cereal, which may be bread or a breakfast food, is an important item. Whole wheat products should be used part of the time certainly.

At one meal a day there should be meat or fish or an egg. Butter should be served at each meal.

At the end of the meal there may be sweets. The bureau includes plain cookies, raisins, dates, figs, jelly, molasses, brown sugar, maple syrup or honey.

In case of undernourishment I would add gelatin. This is a very important adjunct food.

The comments of the bureau and the food schedule strikes me as informative and useful. Every parent should read and ponder them.—Copyright, 1927.

Who's Who and Why.

EDWARD E. LOOMIS.

Edward E. Loomis has been following the railroad game since 1883 when he began as the secretary to a railroad attorney. Since that time he has been employed in different capacities by a number of roads. He rose from the position of secretary to the general superintendent of the New York, Lake Erie, and Western railroad in 1884 to superintendent of the Tioga division of the same road ten years later. After that his rise was rapid. In addition to his experience in managing railroads Mr. Loomis has had charge of railroad mining interests. He is now the efficient president of the Lehigh Valley railroad.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Investigation shows there are only thirty-seven occupations known to the world which are followed exclusively by men. And in thirty-seven years there won't be any. The notable characteristic of the world in which we live is the actual disappearance before our eyes of a "man's world." This does not, unfortunately, mean a better world. It merely means a different world. Men and women, in morals, manners and intellect, are about alike.

The universal desire of men and nations seems to be prosperity. Emotion comes and goes. Ideals rise and fall. The love of prosperity goes on forever. The city of Nice, in the south of France, desiring the riches of a prosperous winter resort season, is now advertising for German trade. During the war Frenchmen imagined they would never speak to Germans again.

Don't listen to the old-timer who tells you we don't have snow like we did twenty-five years ago. The climate is here to stay. Henry Cox, well-known government weather forecaster in Chicago, says the apparent difference is that today automobiles beat down the snow. The dirt in the atmosphere above a busy world mixes with the flakes as they fall and makes them melt faster. The seasons are not changing.

It must be a great comfort not to have an official position to maintain and to say what you think. Prince Henry, of Sweden, visiting this country, is asked if they have prohibition in his country. He replies: "No—thank God."

You see he is not the crown prince—just a second son—and can say what he chooses. Asked for his favorite game, he replies: "Poker."

If he were the king or the crown prince, he would have to express his polite interest in prohibition, and would have to pretend that golf or polo were his favorite amusements.

Most of us have, or think we have, some sort of official position to keep up. We usually try to give the proper answers rather than the real answers.

Dinner Stories.

They were talking politics in the third-class smoking compartment.

"Oh, Lloyd George is a grand speaker," cried the enthusiast in the corner. "There's grit in his every sentence, determination in his every gesture. Kenneth rushed in from play with hair rumpled, clothes soiled, and hands dirty, and seated himself at the table. It was "Children's" day in a small country community in Oregon. The very young and inexperienced minister seemed to be somewhat disconcerted by the row of little boys and girls in their starched best who sat in front of him. Vagrant Verse.

PERMANENCE

The glory that was Greece is dust,
The grandeur that was Rome is done,
For one by one our jewels rust,
And temples crumble one by one,
Yet when the towers of stone are gone
The steady stream of life flows on.

For wind and water, sun and air
Wreak stealthy havoc everywhere,
The stoutest sea-wall can not hide
The steady onslaughts of the tide,
And beams of cedar slowly rot,
And vines break through where thieves may not.

The queens are dead of whom minstrels sung—
The earth is ravished of their charms,
Whose lovers lay, when man was young,
Forgetting battles, in their arms
The place is lost where Helen lies
With ashes on her lovely eyes.

Yet still in wandering you may meet
A girl with Cleopatra's face—
A figure on the crowded street
Has something still of Sappho's grace
So life, the frailest thing of all,
Outlasts the sternest castle wall!

A. An article published in the Christian Advocate says: "At the beginning of the nineteenth century the 'commercial metropolis of the United States' occupied only the lower end of Manhattan island, what is now 'up town' being still made up of spacious farms and country estates, including the little village of Harlem. The actual measurements of the city proper are given as three miles in length—from the Battery to Fourteenth street—one and a half miles in width and eight miles in circumference."

On the Pacific Slope.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

Los Angeles, Jan. 14 — Strictly speaking there is little of the hectic night life we know on Broadway out here. Such as is expressed in the jazztum-tum of the Black Bottom bazaars. There are some roosts for night birds, but comparatively few.

The afternoon tea appears to be the substitute. All the big hotels have their luxurious tea gardens where fashionables drift. Also those celebrities who crave admiration. They are usually in the semi-open and fringed with palms like a brilliant Belasco setting.

But the real evening parties are in the home. Out in Hollywood these affairs have often gobbled up much first-page space. Gossipmonging is one of the Hollywood sports. This name and that are linked in the shady liaison. Wife-swapping is common talk.

I heard of one director who was off on a three week's twister—"fried to the ears." I had seen him twice during that time as coldly sober as a chairman of the board addressing the directors. Hollywood has its bad boys and girls. It would be impossible to get around the record.

That is true of every profession and trade. I hold no brief for Hollywood. I believe those so suddenly elevated to riches and fame owe much to their audiences. Many have betrayed this trust and deserve the banishment they received. On the other hand I believe the colony has often been maligned.

I have noted nine young ladies and four men of varying degrees of cinema fame who neither drink nor smoke. The list is doubtless larger. All are a little conscious of their fame and resort to posing. Also I have not noted an excess of intellectual brilliance among them.

As a casual observer they strike me as ordinary folk found on every hand splashed suddenly out of obscurity and still floundering around wondering what it is all about. And gripped by a paralyzing fear that any day the bubble may burst.

A pleasant caller today was Mike Donlin, baseball idol of twenty years ago. It was a youthful dream of mine to be his bat boy. He is untouched by the mockery of Time. Mike has the same cocky swaggering walk as he had in those roystering days when he was swatting the apple over the garden wall or biffing an umpire. He is in the movies now—married and quite content.

Los Angeles is thoughtful of the tourist. There are no red-faced crossing cops rushing at touring motorists to bawl them out for slight traffic violations. The cop here rebukes in a smiling kindly way. Often he stops to chat. This consideration for the stranger is also noted among waitresses, waiters, newsboys and others who serve vast tourist hordes. Perhaps this accounts in no small measure for the statistical fact that more than 700,000 tourists permanently located here during the past five years. They came, saw—and remained. The New Yorker who is often greeted with scowls and sneers curls up to purr and gurgle with delight over the change.

There is a newsboy near Pershing square who used to sell newspapers in Harlem. While chatting with him this morning a youth wearing a toodle-oo belted suit, a pip-pip shirt and fuzzy hat went mincing by. "One of our male impersonators" chirped the lad from Coogan's bluff.

California girls are beautiful, but no more beautiful to my way of thinking than those of Manhattan. I have always thought the most beautiful girls in the world were found on Fifth avenue and Broadway. But out here there is a noticeable lack of cosmetics. The corn fed bloom prevails. The eyes are not kohled, the lips carmined or complexions splotched a hideous yellow or green. Copyright, 1927.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

Some people like things because they are new and some people like things because they are old. Somehow, it seems to me that it don't make any difference whether they're new or old, as far as that's concerned. If a chair is good to set in and looks like it would last a long time without not very much expense for upkeep, and still ain't ugly, I should think it'd be a pretty likely piece of furniture, whether it was made yesterday or the day before Tutankhamen lost his job in Egypt.

But one hired girl busted a platter when she was cleaning out the cupboard, and the lady of the house was so scared that she didn't hardly have time to get mad. She gave a gasp and set down on the floor and said, not very loud:

"Oh Margaret, you have broke the platter! It was 200 years old!"

"Well," says Margaret, "that puts me at ease again. I was scared too, thinkin' maybe it was a new one."—Copyright, 1927.

Trade Unit Course Successful Venture at Harding High

MARION PLANTS CO-OPERATING IN MOVEMENT

$5,335.94 Already Paid in Bonuses to Students Completing Their Studies

Probably one of the most successful courses from the regular academic courses offered in Marion's public schools within recent years is the unit trade course of the Vocational Department at Harding High School.

This is established in the manner in which this new undertaking has operated since its inception and in the support accorded it by those most directly affected.

Through an agreement that has been worked out with local industrial concerns cooperating with the Vocational Department in the work, $5,335.94, representing a share of wages earned by students and held in trust for them pending their graduation, has been turned over to those successfully completing the course.

See Increase

According to present arrangements this sum will be materially increased with the close of the present year of the department.

In addition to the financial aspect of the venture the department has turned out students qualified to handle positions that heretofore have been assigned to those that heretofore have been assigned apprenticeship in machine shop work.

Favorable Reports

Reports from the factories where students have obtained reports lend encouragement to the department. Records show that every student who was successful in classroom practice was in the same measure successful when he launched upon his career after leaving school.

This work was undertaken in Marion in 1921. Early progress was slow due to the fact that the unit trade idea was new to the community and naturally sentiment was divided until taxpayers began to understand the nature of the work and its objectives.

Project Approved

Today, a check reveals, the community is solidly in favor of the project and the work undertaken by the Vocational Department.

Each of the last three years the number of students electing this course of study has exceeded the capacity of the department.

Records show the following enrollment:

1921 and 1922, freshmen, 55; sophomores, eight; juniors, five and seniors, two.

1922 and 1923, freshmen, 12; sophomores, 33; juniors, four, and seniors, two.

1923 and 1924, freshmen, 30; sophomores, 19; juniors, 21, and seniors, six.

1924 and 1925, freshmen, 22; sophomores, 21; juniors, 11, and seniors, 17.

1925 and 1926, sophomores, 19; juniors, 17, and seniors, nine.

1926 and 1927, sophomores, 23; juniors, 18, and seniors, 15.

No Freshmen

It is to be seen that freshmen have not been taking part in the unit trade work during the last two years. Due to the lack of room and change in periods the freshmen are unable to take part in the work, but are given subjects which correlate with the trade unit course. These students are called prevocational pupils.

Completion of the ninth year work is required of all students electing the trade unit course. Special aptitude in mathematics is desirable but not required.

the department and those closely associated with the work this type of vocational education offers many advantages to the youth who is industrially inclined. In former years, it is pointed out, the training of industrial workers was done in the industries themselves. This method has gradually been shifted to other agencies, either public or private, with more satisfactory results, it is claimed.

Many Advantages

In the opinion of those in charge of

L. H. Rieker, who is co-ordinator of the Vocational Department at Harding High School, and who has made a thorough study of the work not only throughout Ohio but in other states where such programs are given, said today that "many conditions that now exist in industry do not lend themselves readily to the best interests of regular apprenticeship training as it formerly existed."

"Best Opportunity"

"How then," Mr. Rieker continues, "is the youth to prepare himself for a life of useful and honest application to an industrial pursuit unless it be by preliminary training in schools presided over by competent instructors thoroughly familiar with industrial needs? No better opportunity is offered than that given in vocational schools.

"Under the unit trade plan in vogue here and in other sections of the country the student spends half of his school time on practical shop methods and the other 50 per cent of his time on relative subjects such as mathematics, drawing, science or such subjects as are directly related to the industrial work.

No Set Projects

"The local school shop has no set projects. The work is not planned far in advance due to the fact that the instructors do not know the nature of the work that may be brought into the shop by the various industries co-operating in the work.

"The head of the department visits the various factories co-operating with the work and get enough material to run the students about a month. This is given to the students to work on and the finished product is returned to the plant for which the department is paid a nominal fee.

"Eleventh and twelfth year students co-operate with factories in the following manner: a student alternates every week with another who is working. The boys do not have any school shop work while attending classes and consequently are assigned more academic subjects than usual. In the event a youth is not able to keep up his academic course he is obliged to take another course.

Make Agreements

"The department has agreements with the Fairfield Engineering Co., the Commercial Steel Castings Co., and the Osgood Co. whereby students are paid a minimum wage for their work in the factories. The agreement stipulates that a sum equal to 50 per cent of the wage paid the student be paid into a trust fund to be held until the student successfully completes the course.

"When the student gets his diploma from the course the money that has accrued to his credit in the trust fund is then turned over to him. Benefits of this plan have already been seen inasmuch as several students have taken the money thus earned and started their college education.

Nine Graduates

"Last year nine students graduated from the department and were compensated at the end of the year from the fund held in trust. The year before 15 were graduated. During the school year of 1923 and 1924 five were graduated and the year before that four were graduated."

Instructors who conduct this department in addition to Mr. Rieker are Clyde H. Rensch, machine shop; R. A. Todd, shop mathematics and mechanical drawing and printing, and J. H. Smith, physics.

Their work is under the immediate direction of Supt. Jesse H. Mason, head of the local school system, and Prin. K. H. Marshall, active head of Harding High School. All work is in conjunction with and under the supervision of the State Department of Vocational Education.

If Youth But Knew

BY JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Capitalist

If I were to give advice to a young man starting out in life, I would say to him:—"If you aim for a large broad-gauge success, do not begin your business career, whether you sell your labor or are an independent producer, with the idea of getting from the world by hook or crook all you can. In the choice of your profession or business employment, let your first thought be—where can I fit in so that I may be most effective in the work of the world?—where can I lend a hand in a way most effectively to advance the general interest? Enter life in such a spirit. Choose your vocation in that way, and you have taken the first step in the highest road to a large success. The man will be most successful who confers the greatest service on the world. Commercial enterprises that are needed by the public will pay. Commercial enterprises that are not needed fail, and ought to fail.

"The penalty of a selfish attempt to make the world confer a living without contributing to the progress and happiness of mankind is generally a failure of the individual. The pity is that when he goes down, he inflicts heartache and misery on others who are in no way responsible.

"My ideas of business are no doubt old-fashioned but the fundamental principles do not change from generation to generation and sometimes I think there are quick-witted American business men whose spirit and energy are so splendid but do not always sufficiently study the real underlying foundations of business management. It is absolutely necessary to be frank and honest with oneself about one's own affairs. Many people assume that they can get away from the truth by avoiding thinking about it. The natural law is inevitable and the sooner it is recognized, the better.

Three new pictures have been added recently to the Davids Street School building. The attendance of the school during the past week was 98 per cent. Davids Street also boasts that 50 per cent of the students have perfect attendance records.

The building's banking average is 98 per cent. Three of the four rooms had 100 per cent for the week. Several new books have been purchased which contribute to the newly-founded library at Davids Street School.

TWO PHEASANT SPECIMENS IN SCHOOL DISPLAY

Mountings Loaned to Central Junior High by Dr. F. A. Stengel

The two beautiful specimens of the English ringneck pheasant which now repose in the specimen case in the front hall of the Central Junior High School were courteously loaned by Dr. F. A. Stengel. They are identical with those most commonly found around Marion.

The English ringneck pheasant is a brilliantly-colored bird belonging to the grouse family along with our domestic fowls, peacocks, and quails.

While this bird is known as the English ringneck pheasant, it is really a native of China and was taken to England sometime before the Norman conquest. The male of the species is the more handsomely colored of the pair, his plumage being a brilliant combination of red, purple, green, black and gold. He is about three feet long, nearly one-half of his length being taken up by the beautiful tail. The female is much less attractive in color, being a rather dull gold with dark brown markings. She is shorter than her mate.

The pheasants build their nests on the ground and each female lays about twelve olive-buff eggs in a hollow among the leaves. The young pheasants are exceedingly hard to rear and are fed on berries, seeds, maggots, and insects.

A propagation of these birds is encouraged by the United States Department of Agriculture, due to their value as destroyers of insect pests. It is unlawful at any time to kill the female of the species while the government allows the cock birds to be put on the game lists during a short period of time.

Living Modern Madonna Loving

SHE was pretty, the young woman who stood at the rail. Even from a distance the crowd waiting to greet the shoreward bound had no doubt about it. But it was not her beauty, vivid as it was, that held their interest. Rather it was her tender solicitude for the babe she held in her arms.

"Ain't mother love wonderful?" ecstatically sighed a fat lady after watching the maternal demonstration for a while. "I've had ten children myself, and sure the spot in my heart was warm for the last as for the first of them!"

The bride grew misty-eyed as she gazed at the slim, trim figure standing a little apart from the rest of the joyous homecoming passengers.

"She is all in black, too. Poor thing, I guess she's a widow!" And in the breast of at least one appreciative bachelor the appealing picture of mother and child awoke a sentiment hitherto dormant.

At last the liner docked, was made fast to its pier, and almost the first to start ashore was the fair object of all this attention. Clasping the infant close, down the gangplank she tripped, apparently oblivious of the admiring glances cast upon her.

Suddenly the young woman shifted the position of the treasure she bore. "Baby" sat up, and in dainty frills and lace and golden curls were framed the painted features of a doll!

• • •

"ONE of our modern madonnas!" remarked a cynical bystander. "All right, of course, this mothering and imitation of the real thing we are seeing so much of lately. There is no use against it if a woman wants to. But what I want to know is this:

"What in the name of the seven seas does a grown up woman want with a doll?"

What, indeed? In which of these possible reasons lies the right answer?

Mother instinct, denied and thwarted? A woman in stature grown, still but [illegible] inside?

What [illegible]? Just why does a grown up woman find the doll appeal ing?

Being a woman disqualifies us from making an unprejudiced answer. But perhaps the man who through life retains his taste for the toys of his childhood, the ball, the bat, the engine that "will go"—can tell us; the boy, grown man size, who plays leap frog over the office desks, who flaunts gay nutties of earlwhile size during any canoeing that has his approval who enters a game of [illegible] and [illegible] best [illegible] this man probably can enlighten us.

The Druggist Knew What To Say

Carl W. Campbell

Findlay, Ohio.—"My kidneys were all out of fix and giving me all kinds of trouble and my back hurt so I could hardly straighten up. I was in misery all the time. Finally I went to my druggist and asked him what would be good for me. Upon his advice I took Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and they did wonders for me. I have had no more trouble with my kidneys nor backache since. I can recommend 'Anuric'—it is excellent."—Carl W. Campbell, 418 Clinton St.

Druggists frequently advise the use of "Anuric" with the same result.

If you want a trial package of the Anuric Tablets send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free advice.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

I turned my attention to my [illegible]. I cut his bonds with my [illegible] only to find that he was [illegible] move.

[illegible] work to rub his ankles while [illegible] how he came to be there.

He [illegible] appeared, a New York [illegible] who had got on the track of [illegible] dealing in the illicit drug market. [illegible] was, he explained, a section of [illegible] New York police especially concerned [illegible] the smuggling of narcotics, and [illegible] section had been having a pretty [illegible] of it in the years immediately [illegible] the War. Three of its members [illegible] mysteriously disappeared within [illegible] last twelve months, and meanwhile the position in regard to the [illegible] was very disturbing from the official point of view.

"Now I tell you," said my new [illegible] who called himself Cyrus P. [illegible], "that there are over two million [illegible] drug addicts in the United States, and that our department reckons that the turn-over of the dope merchants last year amounted to many million dollars, you may form some idea of the magnitude of this proposition."

Mr. Claypole had apparently been successful in conducting one or two minor operations which had resulted in three fairly large seizures by the customs. This had brought him to the notice of his chiefs, and they had sent him on a secret mission to Europe with the object of endeavoring to track down the headquarters of the gang, which, according to information, was conducting operations so vast and so world-wide that their exact extent could never be fully known.

I mentioned the "inner ring" to which references had been made that morning at the meeting of the Opium Committee of the League.

"Those guys were right," said Claypole. "There's a sure enough ring, all right, and the head of it is that same yellow-faced Japanese who owns this high-class residence in which we are now confined."

I told him of my interview with the Japanese in the room of the yellow hangings.

"Seems as though he's the leading light, and I reckon he's about as wicked as he looks. I'm dead sure he did for my old pal, Harold Lynch, in 'Frisco, and Charlie Malone could have sent us a word in season if he hadn't been found in pieces, poor fellow, on the streets of Tokio."

Claypole went on to tell me that he got on the track of the gang through a Paris agent, but that his operations had been almost immediately discovered, and that he had since had to flee for his life. He had evidently been pretty hard pressed, for just before I had met him at Dijon he had in Paris twice narrowly escaped from two inexplicable and seemingly fortuitous street accidents, one in the Place de la Concorde, and another in the rue St. Honore. He had, however, eventually reached the Gare de Lyon and boarded the train, as he thought, without detection.

I listened to his story in amazement. I could scarcely believe my ears. That the illicit drug traffic was a grave problem I knew, and I was well aware that there were millions of broken-spirited creatures in the grip of the triple fiends, morphia, heroin and cocaine. But that the pedlars of these drugs carried on their operations on so vast a scale that murder counted apparently for nothing was almost inconceivable. But there was no getting away from the facts.

Claypool related how he had been abducted from the bedroom at Dijon.

"They must have doped me," he said. "For I woke up next morning with a head like a home-grown cauliflower."

"I had something of a head myself," I said. "And now I come to think of it, there was a strange sort of smell in the room."

He had been taken by car straight to the house in which we were now imprisoned, where they had questioned him as to his precise knowledge of their doings. They had met with little success, and the Japanese had decided that Claypole was too dangerous to be left alive. Preparations for his demise had been in progress when I arrived on the scene.

Though it takes some time to set this down on paper, it did not take long for Claypole to tell me his tale. Indeed, I had not finished rubbing his wrists and ankles when he had finished. I had, however, little time to tell him of my own adventures, or of the mysterious handkerchief, for he had by now partially recovered the use of his limbs and was eager to be up and doing.

"Lucky you found that high-grade exit of Count Emilco," he said. "Where does it land us when we arrive?"

"It lands us in a well," I replied. "And as far as I can see, that's about as far as we are likely to get."

"It's the best we can do," he urged. "There's no earthly change of getting away through the house."

As he spoke we heard footsteps descending.

"Here comes that darned ice-cream merchant with a complete outfit for the heavenly pastures," he said.

"Wait a moment," I whispered, "if he finds the door locked, he'll suspect something and they'll watch the well. We must blow out the lights and leave the door unlatched. It'll take him some time to discover what has happened."

"All right," he nodded. "I'll douse the glim. Lead on, Macduff, and Cyrus P. Claypole will follow."

I stole across to the door and turned the key softly, while Claypole put out the light. Then we groped our way to the sliding panel. Just as we slipped through I heard the voice of Marce.

"What the devil have you done with the light, Fugi?"

I called back, endeavoring to imitate as best I could Fugi's voice.

"It has gone out, Signor. There is no oil. You will have to get another lamp."

Marce said something which I could not catch from the other side of the door, and presently I heard him depart again, grumbling, into the darkness. We had escaped for the moment.

Taking Claypole by the hand, I pushed off along the dark passage. Presently we came to the water.

"Can you swim?" I whispered.

"You bet. But I don't cotton to the idea of a cold bath."

"It's not far," I assured him.

I uncoiled the silk rope as I spoke, and handed one end of it to him, keeping the end to which the stick was attached round my waist.

"Hold on to this and follow me," I said. "You won't have to hold your breath for very long."

We waded down the slope towards the opening till the water closed over our heads. Then I struck out vigorously, feeling the rope tugging behind me as Claypole labored to keep the pace I set. In a few seconds we had reached the hole by which I had entered the passage, and I shot up into the well, my companion behind me, letting go the rope as he came to the surface. It was an enormous relief to be in the open once more, and I breathed the night air gratefully. The sky above was gray black, with one or two pale stars distantly shining.

Claypole swam cautiously round our prison, feeling the sides of the well carefully as he did so. Presently he stopped and whispered back: "Say, friend, will you come over here?"

I swam across to him, and, feeling where he had directed, struck my knees suddenly against an uneven stone about three feet below the surface of the water. I put my foot down and found it was broad enough to rest most of my weight upon it.

"I've got an idea," said my companion. "Are you still holding on to that piece of furniture?"

I passed him the leg of the couch. He unwound the silk rope from my waist and retied one end to the stick.

"Now," he went on, "I've got to climb on your back. Think you can hold yourself steady?"

"I'll try," I replied.

I succeeded in wedging both feet on the little ledge and, raising myself out of the water, wedged by hands into two uneven crevices on the wall side of the well. There I stood in a semi-upright position, halfway out of the water, but my balance was not very secure.

My companion seized me by the wrist and began to climb with great caution up my back on to my shoulders. When he was halfway up the strain became too great and I fell back into the water with a loud splash.

We listened eagerly for any sound as we came to the surface again, but all was silent save our own breathing.

"Once more into the breach, dear friend," said Claypole cheerfully, and I could not help but admire his spirit.

With some difficulty we found the stone again, and I hoisted myself up. This time we were more successful. My companion succeeded in getting himself up on to my shoulders and reared himself upright, against the side of the well. He took a length of my rope, with the leg of the couch attached to it, and swung it upwards. After three or four attempts he managed to get the leg over the top of the well, where it stuck fast in some unseen projection on the other side. He tugged at the rope gingerly and then let himself slide as noiselessly as possible into the water again.

"Now," he said, "I'll go first."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain Tow To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly [illegible] of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, belching, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try doing aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

Hemorrhoid Sufferers

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting and operations fail?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Henney & Cooper and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, quick and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers, and saves the needless pains and expenses of an operation. Don't delay. Try HEM-ROID today. It will do the same for you.—Adv.

REGULATE—DON'T PURGE BOWELS

Harsh Physics, Calomel, Salts and Purgatives Soon Lose Effect

Here is a pleasant, harmless laxative, system cleanser, stomach tonic and bowel regulator which everyone troubled with constipation, especially chronic obstinate cases, should try.

"VINCO" is a chocolate coated tablet made of Herbs, Roots and Barks (no dope). Does not gripe or sicken. Your druggist will refund money if you do not get relief from the first 25c box.

Lay aside nasty salts, dangerous calomel and harsh physics. Use only "VINCO" to regulate the bowels. Do a kindness by telling others about "VINCO." They, too, will appreciate the difference between harsh physics and gentle, harmless "VINCO."

This is the time of year to eat the succulent oyster. Baked oyster pie is a good luncheon dish if you wish a change from the usual soup or scallop.

Cole Slaw — Apple Sauce Cake
Tea or Coffee

TODAY' SRECIPES

Baked Oyster Pie—Line an earthenware or glass baking dish with a short biscuit dough and sift over the bottom and sides some dry flour; drain the liquor from four cupfuls of oysters, season with salt, paprika and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; place the oysters in the dough-covered dish, add one cupful of milk, cover with the biscuit dough, make a small hole in the center, brush with beaten egg and milk and bake in a quick oven.

Apple Sauce Cake—One and one half cups of apple sauce, unsweetened, one cup light brown sugar, one-half cup melted shortening, one cup chopped raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon, one half teaspoon nutmeg, two teaspoons soda in a little cold water, two cups flour.

Wash the Line.

Wrap the soiled clothesline around the washboard and scrub with soapsuds and a scrubbing brush. Place under the spigot to rinse well and dry in the sunshine. If the line is always clean there is no worry about smudges on the clothes where they have been pinned to it.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

I DID not answer Jack Leslie's comment upon Philip Veritzen's role of taskmaster and when he next spoke of it, it was only to voice a conventional phrase.

"Please remember me kindly to Miss Harrison," he said, "and—thank you for a most wonderful dance."

He left me at my table a moment later, and as he bowed and turned away, I was miserably conscious that all the eyes in the place were turned upon me, and the next instant there was another storm of applause.

"You have them!" Philip Veritzen exclaimed, and I saw at the instant, he was all showman. "And no wonder", he added, with a smiling bow to me.

I saw Dicky's lips set in a thin line, then relax, and knew that his wish to play the game had outweighed his jealous choler.

"I know you could dance, Madge," he said, looking at me directly, "but I never realized that you could do anything like that."

"You'll learn a lot about your wife, if you live long enough," Lillian commented, then she threw a verbal bombshell—I guessed with premeditated aim.

"Better get ready to take your bow, Madge," she said. "This crowd is certain to vote you the one entitled to that ridiculous prize idea of Pat's."

"Oh! no, no!" I said, panic-stricken, while Dicky caught back an oath, and Philip Veritzen's face suddenly held a look of kindly concern.

"I'll hold the fort," he said to Dicky, "if you want to get out quickly."

Dicky's hand went toward the billfold in his pocket, but Lillian spoke in a low peremptory voice.

"Don't call any attention to our going. Pat's likely to detain us. Phil can see to the bill and you can settle with him later, Dicky-bird. Get ready, Madge. We'll slip out while Jack and his new partner are dancing on the opposite side of the room. Everybody will be looking at them, and we can manage it."

Her plan went through without a hitch, and five minutes later a taxicab was whirling us toward home. But while Dicky was rescuing his hat and topcoat from the checkroom attendant, Lillian had a chance for a whispered colloquy with me in the corridor near the outside door.

"Just what did Leslie say to you while you were dancing?" she had demanded. "Quick! Every word!"

Rapidly I had repeated the few sentences which the dancer had addressed to me—couching them in his exact language something ridiculously easy for my memory, with the rigid training it had received. Lillian knitted her brows as she listened.

"H—m!" she commented. "One perfunctory compliment for you, and the rest inquiries after Mary and a declaration that he had not seen her for a long time—look here—ask me to go home with you, persist if I demur."

And then Dicky had come up to us, and our colloquy had ceased abruptly.

"Better tell him where to drop me," Lillian suggested as we neared the vicinity of the rather shabby apartment hotel in which she lived.

With the memory of her injunction upon me, I spoke quickly, imperatively.

"We'll tell him nothing," I said. "You're coming home with us. I haven't seen you for ages—it seems—before today, and I've a million things to talk over with you."

"But I can't," she said. "I haven't anything——"

"Yes, you have", I laughed. "You brought your toothbrush and your favorite brand of face powder with you when you dressed in my room. And I can lend you anything else you need. So keep still and obey."

"You know who drives when one needs must," she laughed, but she made no further protest, and in a few more minutes we were back in the apartment living-room.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunates who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth.

"I feel so happy for what S. S. S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S. S. S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

MANSFIELD MAN PRESIDES OVER SCOUT SESSION

Floyd Dent Has Charge of Meeting in Galion; Addresses Group

Galion, Jan. 14—Floyd Dent, of Mansfield, chief executive of the Johnny Appleseed Area of the Boy Scouts conducted the annual meeting of the Galion Council of Boy Scouts at which time officers were elected and reports of the various city troops, made. Mr. Dent concluded with an interesting talk on the boy scout work that has been done and the many good things that the movement has accomplished in the area. Troops from Mansfield, Ashland, Shelby and Galion comprise the Johnny Appleseed district and the rivalry between the organizations is very strong.

L. M. Liggett who is largely responsible for the increase of interest in boys' work in the city, was re-elected president. V. D. Cahill, was chosen first vice president; James Rose, second vice president; George Beach, third vice president; Joseph Motsch, Jr., secretary-treasurer and George R. James Scout Commissioner.

For a number of years the Boy Scout movement in Galion was unsuccessful and although the boys of the town were enthusiastic of joining this organization the leaders necessary to manage the troop were lacking. Now that churches and the Kiwanis club are backing the boys to the limit Galion has one of the most effective and active groups of Boy Scouts in this district. Besides the capable scout masters who have been very carefully selected the officers are among the city's most influential men so that a brilliant future for the movement, is ahead.

CHRYSLERS ARE BEATEN, 31-28, BY CANTONITES

Upper Sandusky Cagers Unable To Withstand Attack of Terminal Players

Upper Sandusky, Jan. 14—The ability of the Canton Terminal players to pull themselves together, carry the ball down the floor and terminate the play with a basket when it was necessary to score gave them the slightly heavier side of a 31 to 28 score in their game against the Newton Chryslers of this city played at the Y. M. C. A. gym last night.

Canton scored consistently throughout the game. What seemed at first to be luck on long shots later proved to be true basketball adeptness. Upper seemed afraid to let loose and played a defensive game the greater part of the time.

Close Guarding

In the first quarter both teams were guarding so closely that neither were able to score for some minutes. Upper had the ball the most of the time at the start with each team feeling the other out. Neither one had that self assurance necessary to carry the plays through. Suddenly Canton burst into rapid fire playing ending the half with the score 19 to 9 in her favor.

In the second half of the game Upper acquired new confidence by the insertion of fresh material on her team, and pushed her score up to within four points of the visiting team. The score then stood 25 to 21 and excitement ran sky high. Both teams played wildly and frantically, erratic because of the closeness of the score and completely losing their heads.

Two Minutes To Play

The score stood 28 to 29 with only two minutes to play when Canton showed her superiority to the local team by the banding together of her players into one concentrated effort which netted them the final basket of the game.

Outstanding players on the Canton team were Matting, who played center and Wagner, right forward. Blaser did the best all around playing for the Newton Chryslers.

The lineup for each team was as follows: Canton Terminals: Wagner, rf; Yoder, lf; Matting, c; Sharker, rg; Schwig. There were no substitutions in this lineup. Newton Chryslers: Glaser, rf; Weekly, lf; Robins, c; Richards, rg; Nauss, lg. Bower went in for Weekly in the second half.

Between halves a quartet composed of Mrs. Sydney Rall, Miss Helen Stechen, Mrs. Thomas McEldowney and Mrs. L. W. Nauss sang "Honey Town."

RECORD NUMBER OF EXHIBITS IN KENTON'S SHOW

Mid-Winter Agricultural Fair Gets Under Way in County Armory

Kenton, Jan. 14—With a record number of exhibits entered, the annual mid-winter agricultural fair and automobile show, sponsored by the Hardin County Corn and Seed Improvement Association, entered upon its second day at the county armory here today.

Despite the inclement weather and the heavy snows that have made travel over many highways in the county difficult, hundreds thronged the armory Thursday and Thursday evening for the grand opening. Peak in attendance figures is expected to be reached Saturday afternoon and evening.

Entry list for all classes closed at 9 o'clock this morning and judging and placing of awards was commenced by Wallace Hangar, Columbus, a representative of the state agricultural extension service.

Eight automobile dealers of Kenton and the county are exhibiting cars of the latest model and make in both the open and closed type. The show is brighter in color this year than ever before.

Special Department

The agricultural displays include hundreds of varieties of farm produce yielded on the farms of Hardin County. Corn, wheat and other grain predominated the displays, however, many farmers placed entries of vegetables, eggs, apples, canned fruit, potatoes, onions, pumpkins, etc.

For the first time in history a special department this year was created for Smith-Hughes work under the supervision of E. R. Tam. Vocational agriculture students from Ada, Dola, Dunkirk, Forest, Ridgeway and other communities of the county are vieing for honors with their displays.

H. C. Althauser, superintendent of the show, expressed the greatest enthusiasm today over the success of the exposition. "Interest is on the increase and more entries than ever are on the stands," he said. "Judging from the interest displayed agriculture in Hardin County is showing no signs of decay."

Nightly entertainment is provided for patrons by the Casper-Goshen Grange orchestra and the Kenton High School orchestra and band of 60 pieces.

Hardin County Marriages Have Decreased During Last Five Years, Records Reveal

Files of Probate Court Show Number of Licenses Issued Grew Rapidly Following War, Then Slumped; June Record Month

Kenton, Jan. 14—Marriages in Hardin county during the past five years have decreased, according to records of the marriage bonds bureau in probate court here.

With the exception of 1926, the year just closed, every year since 1922, has found the number of licenses issued dropping lower and lower. In 1922 a total of 253 licenses was issued. From that time on a steady drop is shown with 1923 having 232 licenses; 1924, 188 and 1925, 157. With 1925 the low period for the five years, the year just closed showed a considerable increase but failed to reach the mark set in 1922 and 1923. In 1926 a total of 223 couples secured licenses to wed.

For a number of years following the close of the World War the marriage rate increased rapidly with the peak being reached about 1922.

Periodical Rush

In contrast to 1925, the year of 1926 found many couples getting licenses at about the same time. These rush periods at the marriage license desk kept clerks busy at times.

During the five year period the month of June upheld its tradition as the "month of brides." A total of 150 couples received licenses during this period for an average of 30 each June. In 1923 the high mark for June was recorded with 42 licenses being issued while June in 1926 was second with 30 licenses. The June, 1923, record was the highest ever recorded.

As a "month of brids" November took second place over the five years and December third. Thanksgiving weddings are believed to have caused the large number of licenses issued in November when 111 were signed in the five years. There were 108 in December.

ISSUE DEFEATED AS FOUR VOTE AGAINST MOVE

Council Chamber Filled to Capacity by Citizens; Advocates Disappointed Over Action

Marysville, Jan. 14—Proposed purchase of the property of the Marysville Water Co. by the city of Marysville was defeated last night by a vote of four to two by City Council. Councilmen C. O. Herd, E. H. Holycross, Chris Meder and Frank Devine cast negative votes as against the two affirmative votes of W. F. Morey and L. W. Shaw for the proposal.

The council chamber was filled to its capacity by interested citizens who were invited by Mayor A. F. Robinson to take part in the meeting and express their opinions if they so desired.

City Solicitor Milo L. Myers was first called upon to read a resolution which he had been ordered to draw up by the council at a preliminary meeting Monday night.

"Ready To Resign"

Before taking this action, he states that he wished to make it clear to the members of city council and citizens in general that if his word and knowledge on utility laws was not considered as reliable by them he was ready to resign, mentioning in connection the names of several citizens and referring to articles in the water question as they had appeared in a local newspaper.

Solicitor Myers followed with a reading of the resolution following which member Herd moved that the same be put to a vote on the first reading before council. The result was the defeat of the issue.

Extension Possible

Mayor Robinson stated after the close of the meeting that it might be possible to obtain an extension of time on the option until a petition could be filed by advocates of the proposal to bring the issue to a vote before the people. He declared he was unwilling to carry the matter any further, and would not attempt to have the time for acceptance extended.

Advocates of the proposition were disappointed with the action taken by council in rejecting the offer.

In an interview with Solicitor Myers the latter stated that he knew definitely that the present owners had received four offers for the plant since the date of purchase and will very probably sell within sixty days.

Illustrates Situation

To illustrate the situation, Mr. Knapp pointed out that there are E. Center-st properties on the tax duplicate at $25,000 which could not be sold for more than $15,000 for residence use. The value would be greatly increased, he believes, if the present zoning restrictions are removed and the property placed in the commercial district.

The City Planning commission consists of Mayor Hazen, who acts as president, O. A. Benedict, O. S. Rapp, Charles E. Merkel, W. G. Slack, J. E. Phillips and E. H. Cowan. All of the members were present with the exception of Mr. Phillips, who could not attend because of illness.

Stockholders Hear Reports of Construction at Meeting; Directors Are Reelected

Prospects for increased building operations in the Vernon Heights addition during 1927 featured reports received at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Vernon Heights Realty Co. held at the company's office on W. Center-st, yesterday afternoon.

Reports showed that last year closed with 16 completed homes in the subdivision and with another dwelling in process of construction.

Four homes were completed during 1926 and it is expected that this will be exceeded by construction work during 1927.

All members of the board of directors who served during the last year were reelected as follows: Chester C. Roberts, Hoke Doulthen, Harry J. Mautz, George E. Frank, Millard Hunt, George B. Knapp and R. T. Lewis.

The directors plan to meet Monday afternoon to elect executive officers for the year.

HENRY KELLER, 61, IS STRICKEN IN CLEVELAND

Superintendent of Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co. Victim of Cerebral Trouble

Henry W. Keller, 61, 399 N. Main-st, life resident of Marion, and for more than 35 years superintendent and member of the board of directors of the Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co., died at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Cleveland Clinic Hospital, following an operation for cerebral trouble and complications. The body was brought to Marion by Hess, Markert & Axe, funeral directors today. Mr. Keller had been in failing health for the past two months and last Monday was taken to the Cleveland Hospital for observation and treatment.

Born in Marion, Feb. 1, 1865, Mr. Keller was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Keller, also life residents of the city. His marriage to Miss Frances Emberry, of Dresden, O., took place place July 26, 1893 in this city. Surviving with the widow are two daughters, Mrs. A. O. Dennis, N. State-st, and Miss Elsie Keller, and one son, Paul Keller, both residing at home. One brother, Jacob Keller, of Pentist, also survives. Two brothers, Chris Keller and John Keller preceded Mr. Keller in death.

Civic Minded

Mr. Keller's sterling qualities won for him the highest esteem and close friendship of a wide circle of acquaintances both in his business activities and in civic affairs. He received his early education in the Marion public schools and as a boy took up the trade of a blacksmith with the McMurray Carriage and Sulky Co., N. Main-st. Mr. Keller became associated with the Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co., as superintendent at the time of its organization in 1893 actively occupying the position until about a month ago. During this period he set up all the machinery in the old plant located at the rear of the new plant on Oak-st, and also was in charge of setting up the machinery in the new and larger plant built several years ago.

Mr. Keller served as a member of the city council for two terms and his lodge affiliations were with the Foresters, of which he was a charter member and with the Maccabees.

"EVERY SWEET HAS ITS SOUR, EVERY EVIL ITS GOOD" says Emerson. The Scopes evolution trial in Tennessee made the United States scientifically ridiculous, the world's laughing stock. But it caused hundreds of thousands to read and think about evolution that had never done either before.

Now Professor Griggs, teacher of biology at Dartmouth, says the Scopes trial has greatly increased interest in natural science studies, causing expansion in the college courses on evolution, geology, astronomy and geography. The Scopes foolishness becomes an asset.

WHITE men got hold of oil rights on the Indian lands. The deals were good. The white men have paid to the government $100,000,000 in income tax on profits.

And now, for a New Year present, a court decides that government cannot tax income or profit derived from Indian lands.

Those dear Indians are wards of the nation, don't you see, protected, as it were, from income tax assessments, and the whites that have already taken a thousand millions of profit out of their oil are protected also. "To him that hath."

THE Boston Transcript editor estimates the number of young men and women attending college in this country at 750,000. The limit is not reached—far from it. Greater prosperity, better pay for fathers, will send more boys and girls to the colleges.

In California it is necessary constantly to increase severity of entrance examinations to universities, so great is the desire for higher education.

ONE CAR STOLEN HERE TWO IN OTHER CITIES

Auto Thieves Are Active, Reports to Local Police Last Night Show

Thefts of three automobiles, one here and two in nearby cities, were reported to local police headquarters this morning.

Elmer Weimer of 621 Cleveland-av, reported that his car a 1926 Buick sedan carrying license number 95-821, was stolen last night while it was parked on S. Main-st in front of the Marion County Telephone Co building. Police of surrounding towns have been notified to look for the machine.

Messages were received from Bucyrus and Mansfield police requesting local authorities to watch for a 1923 Studebaker touring car, Ohio license 222-658, stolen at Bucyrus and a 1927 Chrysler coupe, Ohio license 79-655, taken at Mansfield.

revolt is being slowly strangled to death—thus far without the cracking of a marine rifle and the process, when complete, will leave Diaz in supreme command.

Unless Borah's plan of a new election is adopted, Diaz will remain in power—with marine support—until the next general election, which is in 1929.

Democrats Impressed

While the state department is cool to his proposals, there was evidenced today some senate interest in them. The Democrats appeared favorably impressed, and there was talk about a resolution which would put the senate on record as favoring a new election.

The insurgents who are bitterly opposed to Secretary Kellogg's policy, planned today to keep up a drum-fire attack on it from the senate floor.

Senator LaFollette was scheduled to lead the fight today, with an attack upon Secretary Kellogg's "red scare."

"This 'red scare,' which makes Mr. Kellogg so nervous," said La Follette, "seems to me to be a 'red herring' so dead that even the department of agriculture would condemn it as unfit for human consumption."

Many recalled today that it was Secretary Kellogg, then a senator from Minnesota, who introduced the resolution of expulsion against Senator La Follette's father in the senate during the war.

VIGOROUS DENIAL OF KELLOGG CHARGES

Mexico City, Jan. 14—A vigorous denial of Secretary Kellogg's recent charges that Mexico was seeking to establish a bolshevist hegemony of Latin America was made today by Foreign Minister Saens.

As evidence that the Mexican government was not seeking to spread the doctrines of the soviet, Minister Saens quoted from President Calles' warning to soviet Foreign Minister Chitcherin in 1926, declaring that Mexico would not tolerate the abuse of her hospitality by persons active in spreading propaganda supporting principles to which the Mexican government did not subscribe.

"Secretary Kellogg has made a series of charges against Mexico which, when examined calmly, can not justly be applied to Mexico," Minister Saens said. "Nobody can hold Mexico responsible for the acts attributed to her by Mr. Kellogg, because Mexico has had no part in them."

Minister Saens said Mexico had taken care to deny the unfounded charges against her and that the belligerent accusations was a new attempt to discredit the country.

ONE MAN DEAD IN ARGUMENT OVER MEXICO

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 14—One man is dead and another suffering from serious injuries here today following an argument over the Mexican situation.

George Kellogg, of Springfield, Mo., died this morning from the effects of three bullet wounds and W. H. Hoffman, also of Springfield, lies in a hospital with a bullet wound in his hip, while five other men are sought by the police.

The men were chance acquaintances eating dinner together in a Palm Beach cafe when they entered into an argument on the Mexican situation, police said, which led to blows and then shots. The five men sought, escaped from the cafe while a waiter was summoning police.

WILLIS CHARGES MOVE TO "THROTTLE" SENATE

Says Rivers and Harbors Bill, Carrying $71,000,000, To Be Rushed Through Body

Washington, Jan. 14—An "unheard" movement is afoot to "throttle" the senate from further consideration of the $71,000,000 rivers and harbors bill for fear that opponents will "filibuster it to death," Senator Willis, republican, of Ohio, charged today.

Conferences plan Willis said, to attempt to have the bill signed into law without submitting a conference report to the senate.

"This is the greatest throttling of the senate ever attempted," declared Willis. "The conferees know that another airing of the bill would be dangerous, and have planned to resort to extraordinary tactics unprecedented in parliamentary history. The bill is so indefensibly a 'pork barrel' measure that it is well known it would be filibustered to death in the senate if it were returned."

Behind the Screen

PERHAPS they decided her name would confuse her with Sally O'Neill, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, so when First National officials gave Sue O'Neil, a typical Celtic miss, a film contract they also re-christened her Kitty Kelly—her mother's maiden name.

Truly, it's a wise movie actor who remembers the name given him at birth since a large number of players assuming a name for film purposes often legally adopt it later.

Miss Kelly has had some experience in comedies, but this marks her entry into legitimate feature pictures. She was born in Bayonne, N. J., went to Hollywood a few years ago and is a decided brunette.

A "rubber-tired Pullman" capable of accomodating six persons, now being designed for Douglas Fairbanks will be used in transporting guests from Los Angeles to the Fairbanks hacienda, in process of development at Rancho Santa Fe, near San Diego.

"This bus," says Doug, "will be wonderfully handy. It will mean a group of people can leave Los Angeles for the ranch in the evening, enjoy a good night's rest and arrive next morning completely refreshed instead of fatigued by a long motor trip."

Joseph M. Schenck promises "Naughty Carlotta," will truly be the name of Connie Talmadge's picture now in production. It orginally was called "Vamp of Venice," then "Venus of Venice."

Chester Conklin has broken a tradition of his film career — he has changed mustache styles. In "A Kiss in a Taxi," he has replaced the usual walrus type with one of flowing ends that curl toward his ears in a most alluring manner.

Colleen Moore is planning to make four pictures abroad at the expiration of her First National contract. She will make one each in England, Germany, France and Italy.

Sidney Chaplin is recovering from an attack of gripe and expects to return to the studios near the end of the month.

New York, Jan. 14 — Charlie Chaplin, the king of film comedy, arrived in New York on the Twentieth Century Limited today and with attorneys that he would fight [illegible] for a divorce "to the [illegible]."

He said the action brought by [illegible] Chaplin in Los Angeles was inspired by his wife's fam-encoute to New York, Jan. 14—"She has been very cruel to me."

The man whom Lita Grey Chaplin is accusing of infidelity, cruelty and dozens of other startling abuses, sat in his drawing room on this train early today, and as he idly flipped a deck of cards in a game of solitaire talked to a reporter alone for more than two hours.

"Cruel is the only word that expresses it," said Charley Chaplin, as the cards slipped through his slender, delicate fingers and the landscape outside hurried by in a black blur while he discussed philosophy, life, religion, fate—and love.

"I hate combat; I hate bickering and fussing, but now—now that such utterly vicious, viperous lies have been told about me—it's a case of standing with one's back to the wall and fighting it to a finish.

Says She's Cruel

"Lita's action was so sudden and so unprovoked. The statements in her bill were terrible—terrible lies. When the time comes I can prove it—a man can't work night and day, writing, acting and directing, as I have done, and have time for all or even any of the things she says I have done.

"That's why I say she's cruel to me. I have been patient with her, and have done my best to make her happy. Why she should turn and with such venom do all the spiteful, vengeful things she has done, I don't know.

"All I can say about it is that she can't really hurt me. No one, as long as he knows he has done right and has no reason to shrink in guilt, can be hurt by such a situation."

He pushed the cards away from him suddenly, and the face which has made countless thousands laugh seemed suddenly very old, very tired and unspeakably sad. It was after circus hours, and the clown had dropped his mask.

"I can't tell you what a home—a real home and a family mean to me", he said. "A house filled with beautiful things is worse than nothing when you have to live in it by yourself. But to have a wife—a sympathetic comradely person and children—to have that would be all I'd ask of life.

"Now—well, I've tried to make that dream come true. Perhaps that's the trouble with your most perfect dreams; they never come true.

"Do you know, I never had any real unhappiness until, I became rich and successful — cold — disappointment — despair — those things are nothing compared to the staggering blows that hit you in the heart—hypocrisy, treachery and slander. Before I knew my friends took me for what I was. Now I can sometimes feel greedy fingers reaching for the gold they think I possess—which, by the way, is far from being 16 millions of dollars. That's ridiculous."

CHAPLIN NOT TO BE DEPORTED

Washington, Jan. 14—Charley Chaplin, film comedian, will not be deported if his wife, Lita Grey, wins her divorce against him, department of labor officials said today. They denied reports from Los Angeles that immigration officials were watching the Chaplin case with a view to deporting him to England.

It was pointed out that in order to deport Chaplin, who is a British subject, it would be necessary for him to be convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude. The divorce case, being a civil action, would not afford grounds for deportation, despite the serious charges it contains, officials said.

SKATER LOST 36 HOURS PICKS WAY TO SHORE

Cleveland Youth Forced To Flee to Ice-Sheeted Lake Crib

Cleveland, Jan. 14—George Edwards, 21, missing skater marooned 36 hours on the ice-sheeted five-mile intake crib in Lake Erie while coast guards hunted him, fought his way to shore yesterday in a rowboat.

Piloting the boat through incredibly perilous ice floes, Edwards, weakened by his hazardous adventure, finally reached the coast guard station at the foot of W. 11th street. The boat which he used was left at the crib by workmen when they abandoned the place Dec. 20 after navigation closed.

Breaking ice near the shore line trapped Edwards on Lake Erie while he was skating Tuesday night. He was forced to flee three miles over the treacherous snow covered lake and take refuge in the gale-swept crib.

Cooks Meal at Crib

Sealing the steel sides of the structure he shattered a window in the living quarters, lighted a fire in a stove prepared a meal of frozen food he found and fell asleep on a cot, tired and fearful.

In the breaking dawn Wednesday morning he could see searching parties trekking over the ice hunting him. His frantic yells went unanswered. Each hour the gap of water between him and the shore widened.

Realizing searchers would not believe he had reached the crib in safety, Edwards ignited the big acetylene warning light atop the structure. It flashed futilely all Wednesday night.

Guards Noticed Light

Although coast guards noticed the light, their suspicions were not aroused. Capt. William Crapo said yesterday afternoon as he supplied the thoroughly chilled skater with hot soup and coffee.

Shortly before noon yesterday Edwards stocked the rowboat with food, a life preserver and a lantern, and headed for shore in the choppy lake. He reached safety after a three-hour struggle.

"I wasn't in much danger," he declared last night at the home of his brother, Ben Edwards. "There was plenty of food and fuel at the crib. I [illegible] there weeks without [illegible].

Worried About Relatives

My principal worry was that I [illegible] folks would fear I had [illegible]." Edwards continued. He lives in Huntington, Pa. He came to there years ago to accept a position with the Cleveland Railway company.

Only a few hours before he reached shore relatives informed his parents he probably had drowned. This occurred after Captain Crapo expressed fears that the youth had vanished through an air hole in the ice.

"The weather played tag with me Tuesday night," Edwards [illegible] while discussing how he became stranded. "I left Perkins' beach to see [illegible] without the ice went.

Explains Isolation

Before I realized how far I had gone I was a mile beyond the crib. Then I started back to shore. When I was [illegible] aware from the beach I discovered the ice had broken. A gap of water was between me and shore.

The weather had fooled me. A south wind was blowing the ice slowly to the lake.

"I was lucky to reach the crib safely. But I had some fun cooking. I was my own chef for two days. I made pancakes and cooked dried peas. There also were some frozen oranges in the crib's [illegible]."

Undaunted by his adventure, Edwards said he intends to go skating on the lake again tonight.

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

A TOTAL of 152 swimming records were bettered during the past year, of which women, for the first time, played the most prominent part.

The well-known Gertrude Ederle figured in the international record of most importance and of the 152 records turned in, 69 of them were made by women.

Many of these records were handed in by budding feminine stars who will be eligible for the 1928 Olympic games.

Among the men, Johnny Weismuller, Arne Borg, Walter Spence and Walter Laufer contributed the greatest portion of the new records, the first named lowering the 100-yard free style mark to 51 1-5 seconds for the outstanding achievement.

Ethel Lackie sent the women's 100-yard free style mark down to 1:00 0-10 seconds, while other maids who added to their fame with new records were the Misses Martha Norelius, Agnes Geraghty, Adelaide Lumber, Doris O'Mara and Ethel McClary.

Taking everything into consideration, this year was the brightest in the history of feminine water splashing and all swimming fans are looking ahead to 1927, when the younger stars will have a chance to better their already flashy marks.

Lions Defeat Dairies in Ragged Contest, 17-15

Isaly Quintet Lacks Pep; Game Featured by Close Guarding of Both Teams

Large Crowd Sees Locals Go Down Before Roaring Crew from Lorain; Miller Plays Bang-Up Game, While His Teammates Mope; Forwards Fail To Connect

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

OUTPLAYING Isaly Dairies in a ragged game featured by close guarding of both teams, the Lorain Lions last night roared and clawed their way to victory over the local quintet in the Star Auditorium, defeating the Dairies, 17 to 15. A large crowd witnessed a rather slow exhibition of basketball.

Continuing in the slump into which they have fallen during the last few weeks, the Dairymen last night lacked the old-time pep and punch which they carried earlier in the season during their games with the Kinnears and other outfits that displayed more basketball ability than did the Lions.

The Lions were speedy and had a great defense but the local five should have by all means come through with a victory. Both teams had their share of tough luck in hitting the bucket, Isalys' hard luck was more noticeable in the final minutes when the locals were compelled to get into the game and fight in an attempt to overcome the lead piled up against them while they were sleeping earlier in the evening.

Miller Flights

Had the entire Isaly quintet showed the spirit and fight that Miller did at back guard, it would have been a different story and the Lions would have gone back to Lorain with injured claws. Miller played basketball—the others moped around the greater share of the time, picking up the ball when it rolled into their hands or was given to them by the towering back guard.

If Miller had not fought like a wildcat to turn back the attack of the Lions, the score last night would have looked like the one registered by the Lorain team the night before at Kenton. He took care of two men all the time and passed the ball when he got it. His teammates did well to take care of one man and attempted brilliant dribbling maneuvers when they finally got the ball. Besides Miller, Phillians was the only player to show signs of team work or fight, after the first few minutes.

At Their Best

The Dairies were at their best in the first few minutes of the second half with the score standing 12 to 7 against them. Minard and Applegett connected for two field goals in rapid succession when the local team began to work together and use a passing game. Within the next few minutes, the individual dribbling from one end of the floor to the other got under way. As a result, the Dairies scored only one more field goal during the game.

The Dairymen showed that they knew how to pass and scored four points with little trouble when they did use team work but yet they returned to the old dribbling game—a game that has long ago passed out of use in a real basketball exhibition.

Lions Lead

The first half ended 9 to 7 with the visitors on top. The half was featured by the miserable attempts of the locals in free throws. Penry had five chances to drop the ball through the bucket from the foul line. He made one point, Phillians had two opportunities and failed... Applegett had his shooting eye and connected twice out of two attempts. Minard was the only Dairy player to cage a field goal during first half and he managed to get two.

It was in the first half that the Lions had tough luck on shots. Time and again they would attempt succor shots only to have the sphere roll gently about the hoop and drop the wrong way. When it dropped, Miller was always there. Opportunities for both teams were rather lacking in the first half because of the tight defensive game but Lorain had more chances close in the Isalies.

Lorain Again

Lorain started the festivities again in the second half by scoring three points before the Dairies realized that the game was under way. Quickly recovering, however, the locals showed signs of finally coming to life by caging two field goals. That ended the excessive scoring and when the Dairies again woke up they were still trailing at the 11-point mark and Lorain had 16 counters. An attempt at a rally in the final few minutes fizzled when the local crew reached the 15 mark and was unable to get any further.

Field Goals

Penry, Phillians, and Tschanen, the three Dairy forwards, last night were held without a field goal. Penry made two free throws, Phillians made one, and Tschanen did nothing. Penry, who was held scoreless in the Indiana game, seems unable to snap out of it. Minard made three field goals. Applegett got two, and Miller, whose duty keeps him at least half the length of the floor away from the basket, never attempted a shot.

The Lions divided scoring honors, only one man failing to get a field goal and no one getting over two for himself.

FORTY-TWO ANSWER

Wooster, O., Jan. 14—The first call for track men at Wooster resulted in a squad of 42 answering the call. While Wooster will not have any indoor meets this winter, Coach C. B. Munson has started to get his men in trim for the spring season. Wooster has five meets for this spring.

Movin' On

BURLEIGH GRIMES, recently traded to the Giants by the Dodgers in a four-cornered deal, will look odd in his new "suit." He wore a Brooklyn one for nine consecutive seasons.

GRIMES

Most folk know that, but may not know that the Detroit Tigers, always hard up for pitchers, owned him for seven days in 1915. Bought him from Ottumwa, June 12, 1913, and sold him to Chattanooga June 19.

He played with Chattanooga, Birmingham and Richmond clubs before the Pirates bought him Aug. 8, 1916 from Birmingham. He remained with that club through 1917 campaign but his total five victories didn't impress Pirate bosses, who let him go to Brooklyn with Ward and Mamnux for Stengel, Cutshaw and some dough.

Six of his nine years with Brooklyn he was a winning hurler. Best years were 1920-21-24, when his won and lost records were 23-11, 22-13 and 22-13. During his major league career he has won a total of 163 games and lost 140. Won 12 and lost 13 last season.

CELTICS WIN

Defeat Chicago Bruins In Final Half of Game

Chicago, Jan. 14—After toying with the Chicago Bruins in the first half of the professional basketball game here last night, the New York Celtics swept through the final period in their real form and won the game, 42 to 26. Three thousand local fans turned out to see Ralph "Moon" Baker, last year's all-American halfback, from Northwestern University, make his debut in professional basketball.

Moon played well but did nothing sensational.

HOOSIERS IDLE

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 14—Indiana University's basketball team undefeated after a series of battles with leading quintets, will be without competition Friday and Saturday night. Monday they take on Northwestern at Evanston in the third Big Ten struggle for Indiana.

The same squad which made the trip to Wisconsin and Minnesota are scheduled to leave here Sunday. The traveling squad includes Captain Krueger, Becker, Derr, Starr, Winston, Correll, Sibley, Wells, Anderson and Leonard.

Mansfield Fans Due For Great Surprise Tonight

"Compton has at least three deadly firing boys but a defense that is inclined to flivver when in a tight place."

Thus a Mansfield newspaper briefly describes its opinion of the fast stepping Harding High basketeers who will tie up with Mansfield High tonight for the first North Central Ohio League game of the season. The battle will be waged in the enemy's territory, the local crew journeying to that city this afternoon.

This is a "free world" and everybody has the right to voice his opinion on various subjects, including basketball teams, but we are inclined to think that if the Mansfield sport writer who composed the brief manuscript concerning Harding's defense really believes what he is talking about, that gentleman is in for a great—and rather unpleasant—surprise this evening.

Who Said So?

Harding High fans will agree that Coach Compton has "at least three deadly firing boys" but where anyone gets the idea that the locals have a defense that will crack in a tight pinch is beyond our comprehension.

It is admitted that Harding has a comparatively green team and the boys showed signs of excitement in their first high school game with Lima Central—but did the defense crack? It seems that if ever a team was in a tight hole, it was Harding, all during the Lima Central game. If a defense was ever going to flivver in a tight pinch, it would have gone down forever in a battle like the one witnessed here last week.

It Happens at Times

Lima Central got the jump on the locals but that was not necessarily because the defense gave in. Even an experienced team will on various occasions get stepped on in the first minutes of the game before the players have gathered their wits together. But, as long as they do get together during the rest of the game and come out on top, who has a right to holler about a defense?

But, defense or no defense, Harding High is out to win its first N. C. O. League tilt of the year tonight. It will be an uphill struggle all the way Harding is handicapped by the fact that the local lads will be facing a team composed of players that look like giants in comparison with them.

Isaly and Bride Stars

Captain Isaly and Bride are doped to be Coach Murphy's best bets at the present time. Hall and Courtney are also considered stiff opponents at center while Murphy figures that he is "sittin' pretty" with two of the greatest guards in the N. C. O. League. They are Bob Martin and Frank McMullen, well-known by all Harding sport followers and followers of the fortunes of the N. C. O. teams.

Mansfield will have the advantage of the home floor. Mansfield has played more games and met stiffer opponents than Harding. Everything is Mansfield this and Mansfield that but still Harding will keep plugging along.

Will They Repeat?

About two months ago, a football team from this city journeyed to Mansfield with a large number of fans going along to see them get trimmed. Several hours later the same crew was returning, jubilant, without defeat. Will the act be repeated on the hardwood floor? We are fully confident that it will and the Marion fans that journey with the team tonight are expecting the same thing.

KIRK INDEPENDENTS DEFEAT TIRO QUINTET

Win Second League Game on Home Floor, 28 to 12

Kirkpatrick Independents last night won their second league game when they defeated the Tiro quintet on the Kirk court, 28 to 12.

Kirks took the lead early in the fray and were never headed although they were leading only three points at the end of the half. Bill and Joe Vogel were high scorers for Kirk. Rief, usually high man, had hard luck and sank only one field goal. Love and Michel starred for Tiro.

WOOSTER VS. NOTRE DAME?

Wooster, O., Jan. 14—Wooster may meet Notre Dame in a swimming meet at Wooster Feb. 9. This date has been offered to Wooster and the matter is in the hands of the faculty athletic committee. The Notre Dame tanksters are booked for a trip east for that week and want a stop off at Wooster on the way.

SHOVELERS WIN OVER CLOSEST LEAGUE RIVALS

Defeat Logan Gasmen Three Games, Taking Control of League

Marion Steam Shovel bowlers last night showed their superiority over their closest rivals for the title of the Industrial League when they walloped the Logan Gasmen three consecutive games. By winning over Logans, the Shovels now have complete possession of first place in the league and probably will never come down off of that perch during the remainder of the season.

Marion County Lumber rollers spilled a surprise in the final game with the postoffice crew last night when they stepped on Uncle Sam's men with a 50-point lead. Postoffice won the first two games.

The highest score for Logan last night was 188 points and that went to Anthony. Kline managed to get 170 in the first game. Norris bowled 214 for high honors among the Steam Shovels. Bishop and Stark were tied for first place in the Lumbermen scoring. Both rolled 170. L. Cookston led the Postoffice force with 196 points.

"This Is WJZ"—A Voice Millions Hear

Clear, resonant, appealing, J. Andrew White's voice is constantly safeguarded

AS the dean of radio announcers, J. Andrew White's voice is known to people throughout the land. Mr. White has won a large following of admirers because of the constant dependability of his voice, ever in perfect condition. He smokes Lucky Strikes, both for finer flavor and throat protection.

Lucky Strikes have become the favorites of men whose priceless voices thrill their audiences, as they have with the millions because, first, they afford greater enjoyment and second, they are certain not to irritate even the most sensitive throat.

The world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged, perfectly blended, give them their richer flavor.

But in addition, a costly extra process—toasting for 45 minutes—develops the hidden flavors of the choicest tobaccos and at the same time removes all "bite" and harshness.

Smoke Lucky Strikes. They give added pleasure—you'll like them.

Plan Establishment of Independent Fish and Game Commission in Ohio

BY JAMES W. STUBER

Columbus, O., Jan. 14—Establishment of a fish and game commission independent of the department of agriculture in Ohio will be asked of the state legislature this week by the organized sportsmen and game conservationists of the Buckeye state.

The bill is to be introduced by Representative Keifer of Springfield. As drawn at present the bill would give a commission of seven members authority to administer the affairs of the fish and game department, through a secretary or chief warden as an executive, with the director of agriculture as a member ex-officio. Many sportsmen however are said to favor complete separation of the fish and game division from the department of agriculture.

Both the League of Ohio Sportsmen and the Izaak Walton League, the two state-wide organized bodies have passed resolutions favoring divorcement, and a joint committee has been named with members from both organizations to consider the proposal. Members of the committee are Charles B. Cranston, Columbus, chairman; Dr. K. Y. James, Cleveland, of the League of Ohio Sportsmen; A. E. Long, Springfield, president of the Izaak Walton League; A. H. Frye, Fremont, Izaak Walton chapter, and E. L. Wickliff, assistant chief of the Ohio fish and game department. The writer, a member of both state sportsmen's organizations, acted as chairman of the recent conference when the committee was appointed.

Legislation Supported

With both the League of Ohio Sportsmen and the Izaak Walton League supporting the proposed legislation, I. S. Myers, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, Akron, believes advanced steps in the fish and game program for Ohio will be taken. A. F. Long, Izaak Walton president, and also a member of the advisory board of the present fish and game divison, recommends a different form of administration from that now existing as the present board is limited in authority. The proposed plan will be similar to that of Pennsylvania where it has worked successfully. Most states favor the separate commission form.

Farmers, commercial fishermen, nature lovers, hunters, fishermen, trappers, may all be represented on the proposed commission. Only three states in the union have the fish and game division subservient to the department of agriculture. The fish and game department of Ohio supported by hunters' and fishermen's license funds without cost to the taxpayers, has outgrown the department of agriculture and is big enough to stand on its own feet, the sportsmen declare. Its work should be that of a department of conservation. Definite action on the measure is to be taken by the League of Ohio Sportsmen at the annual convention in Columbus January 25. It is understood that the Izaak Walton League has already indorsed the bill as drawn.

Commissioners Have Authority

Important features of the measure will give the commissioners who would serve without pay or for a small fee when in session, the authority to declare open and closed or flexible seasons, govern bag limits and make other regulations, within limitations. Hearings could be held before a regulation is declared at which anyone could be heard. It is believed that the legislature will be glad to be relieved from the responsibility of changing the fish and game laws every session when they might be giving their time to more vital measures.

Fish and game laws generally cause more clashes, and take up more time than almost any other kind of legislation, and each year changes are demanded, by various interests. It is believed that through a commission of experts sound regulations requiring but little changes, can be made, or if changes are necessary they can be declared after a thorough study of the problem. Fish and game protectors need have no fear of their jobs through the proposed legislation, as the department will still remain under civil service if the bill passes. Ohio has on its force some of the best fish and game protectors in any state in the Union.

Other Changes?

Should the proposed bill fail to pass, many changes in the fish and game laws advocated by the sportsmen, will of course be thrown into the legislative hoppers. Should it pass these proposed changes will be placed before the new commission. This should simplify the whole process, of game law regulations.

The sportsmen generally recommend that the $1.00 anglers license law now applicable only to rod and reel fishermen, be made to cover all fishermen over 16 years of age, and that all state laws should conform to federal regulations in order to avoid confusion. Federal laws govern only migratory species that in their Spring and Fall flights pass from state to state.

New Conservation Era

Ohio is entering upon a new era of game and wild life conservation. A broader vision of the whole problem is being entertained by sportsmen at large.

Conservation as been on trial in Ohio or several years, with many political angles, misrepresentations and dissentions. The sportsmen through their many organizations have overcome much of their former controversy, and are now getting together on a sound and practical program.

Joe Dundee to Attempt Comeback Against Eddie Roberts in Bout Tonight

Joe Gets Return Engagement with Man Who Knocked Him Cold in First Round of Previous Battle; Dundee Gets Odds in Fight Tonight

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Jan. 14—It will be Kaufel and Papke, Gans and Frank Klaus and John Dundee and Jackson all over again at the Garden tonight, just a return engagement of an age-old act with the man who has been knocked out attempts to prove that he can come back to beat the gent who knocked him out. They never come back, according to the oaken, moss covered bromide, but it doesn't apply to Stanley Ketchel, the Grand rubber cheeks and it may be that Joe Dundee is immune, too. Anyhow, Joseph tonight is scheduled to mingle again with Eddie, Roberts, of Tacoma Wash. It is supposed to go ten rounds, but you never can tell about these things.

As I remember it, the last Roberts-Dundee match was scheduled for 10 rounds and didn't last one. Joseph handed a right hand full on the nut-meg in the first minute of play.

Neither a Champion

The match ruined half the bootleggers and fruit peddlers between here and San Francisco and acted as a temporary injunction restraining Eddie from further conducting himself as the official challenger for the welterweight championship. The title in question might very well ride with the result of tonight's fight, although neither one is a champion—yet.

The idea, it seems, is rampant, or something that Pete Latzo no longer can make the welterweight limit of 147 pounds without holding his breath and, when they get a champion in that precinct, he is not long for this life, so to speak.

Dundee Gets Odds

The boys are rallying around Dundee tonight and the odds are 7 to 5 that he will win. Apparently, they are obsessed with the idea that that San Francisco knockout was tinctured with iodine, and just didn't count. They further have achieved much solace by recalling that Ketchel returned to knock Papke into the right field bleachers and that Gans, stopped in 12 rounds by Erne, later was able to reverse the feature in exactly one.

Why they should confound Joe Dundee with Gans and Ketchel is a bit beyond my feeble resources. From what I have seen of Joseph, he is a fair fighter who might become champion provided no one else is better. They say he is one of the rising young men of the profession and he may need to be if Roberts anoints him with another right.

Most of the pro-Dundee crowd support their guess on tonight's number by declaring that Joseph always was a slow starter anyhow, but would hasten himself this time. In other words, they are looking for a Charley Paddock performance from Ping Bodie. My guess is that it will be fair enough fight with Dundee winning on points.

Local Railroad Team Will Meet Fostoria Here Tonight

The newly organized Hocking Valley basketball team of Marion will meet the Fostoria outfit in the armory here tonight, it was announced today. The game is the first for the local railroaders in the Toledo Division League.

The Toledo Division League, organized a few weeks ago, is composed of four teams, Columbus, Toledo, Fostoria and Marion. Each team has been formed with employes of the Hocking Valley in that district.

Nothing is known concerning the strength of the team to face the local crew tonight and no prediction of the outcome has been forthcoming from any Marion employes.

These lads have shown no signs of being defeated so far this season and will furnish tough opposition for the best of 'em during the season. They meet Western Reserve in an Ohio conference tilt, Saturday night.

HOWITZERS BEAT KAPPAS IN PRELIMINARY CONTEST

Continue Winning Streak with 33 to 24 Victory Over Fraternity

Howitzer Company cagers continued their winning streak last night when they romped over the Kappa Alpha Phis for a 33 to 24 victory in the preliminary to the Isaly Dairy-Lorain Lions game in the Star Auditorium.

The Kappas were leading 10 to 12 at the end of the half but went down before the comeback of the guardsmen in the final minutes. Kellogg and Boulton starred for Howitzers and Snyder at center made all but six points for the Kappas.

Another Top Notch Battle Will Be Offered Chicago Fight Followers Tonight

Eugene "Shuffle" Callahan, of Chicago Heights, Will Clash with Wolcott Langford, Pride of Chicago's Black Belt; Both Welterweights

BY GENE HOFFMAN

Chicago, Jan. 14—Another top notch fight such as boils up every six months or so, will be offered Chicago fight fans at Dexter Park Pavilion tonight.

This battle is one of those things, described in lotic vernacular as a "natural." It is important, not because any world title is at stake, nor because of any particular fame of the fighters, but for the simple reason that it brings together two of the most picturesque gladiators in the ring today.

They are Eugene "Shuffle" Callahan, of Chicago Heights, and Wolcott Langford, pride of Chicago's black belt. They were both welterweights until a little local fame and its resultant steady employment, which meant "three squares" a day, brought them up to the middle division. In that class, they fight tonight.

Known in Chicago

The fact that these men are comparatively unknown outside of Chicago does not argue against this being another top notch fight. Local fans are literally fighting for dueals. Promoter Mique Malloy has his S. R. O. signs all ready to hang out. Each fighter has a host of local followers.

Both Callahan and Langford have long records of knockouts. Shuffle, a former coal heaver and truck driver, who threw his shovel away when he discovered he had a sleep producing right, enjoys the reputation of either knocking out his man or getting knocked out himself.

Langford Dangerous

Langford, while not quite so deadly with his right, and more polished in ring strategy, is always dangerous, as many who have crossed leather with him in the roped arena are willing to testify. He has a long list of knockouts to his credit.

Beside the knowledge that this affair is almost sure to end with one of the fighters prostrate on the floor, local fans happen to know that Callahan and Langford are bitter personal enemies. They are so sore, it is said, that even their managers will not speak to each other. That condition has never been known to hurt the gate receipts.

Picturesque Style Attracts

But to a non-partisan spectator, the picturesque style of these fighters is the high attraction. Shuffle, the white man, is slow and awkward; Langford, the negro, is quick, alert and very skillful. Shuffle has nothing but a pile driving right, and the ability to take a lot of punishment. Few men can knock him out.

The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds to a decision. For the first time in the history of the game in Illinois, fans are offering odds that the fight will end in a knockout. Betting on the winner is at even money.

AARON WARD WILL FILL EDDIE COLLINS' SHOES

Yankee Second Baseman Traded to White Sox for Two Players

Chicago, Jan. 14—Chicago baseball fans took new heart today over the coming American League pennant race, following the announcement that Aaron Ward, Yankee second baseman, had been traded to the White Sox to fill the shoes vacated by Eddie Collins.

Ward comes to the Sox in exchange for John Grabowski, utility catcher and Ray Morehart infielder. No money was said to have been involved in the trade.

MYSTERIOUS OPERATION FEATURES CLUB MEET

Kiwanians Perform Fake Surgical Undertaking on Member of Organization

Suffering from a mysterious malady, discovered only Thursday noon as he sat at luncheon with his fellow Kiwanians, Jay Vaughan was, operated on in a hastily improvised operating room. The "surgeons" were James C. Woods, G. Farr Lorie and R. F. Fletcher. Among the instruments were a meat cleaver, saw, hatchet, hammer, chisel, and some knives and forks from the table. The anesthetic was a story about the "traveling man who," told by Fletcher.

After first removing Vaughan's "roll" they diagnosed his case as cancer, and then found three cans of peas. Vaughan's "liver," an alarm clock, a soup bone and other articles, were next removed. A bottle full of genuine "pre-war liquor" was finally found and confiscated. A piece of apple pie, which the surgeons ate, pointed to indigestion, but this was later proved false.

The operation was entirely successful, but the patient "died" it was found when thought when the surgeons ceased their labor. Reviving suddenly, Vaughan asked where he was and was told at the Kiwanis luncheon. He asked if the program had finished talking, and on being told that he had not, Vaughan had a relapse and was carried out.

Committee Report

Other features of the Kiwanis luncheon Thursday noon was the "report" of the sick committee, given in song, about a fellow Kiwanian who died of a broken neck trying to lick alcohol off his back after being rubbed with the fluid.

After some discussion it was decided by the Club members that the program to be broadcast from Cleveland by the Kiwanis Club there next Thursday night, from 7 to 7:30, would not call for a meeting of the local club, but that members would get the program in their own homes on their radio sets. Those without radios are to be invited to the homes of those who have them to hear the program.

COOLIDGE TO TALK

Will Address Joint Session of Congress on Feb. 22

Washington, Jan. 14 — President Coolidge will address a joint session of congress on Feb. 22, it was decided today following a meeting in the White House of the George Washington Bi-Centennial Commission.

The address, which will be in the nature of a eulogy of the first president, will be broadcast by radio.

The commission considered tentative plans for the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth, to be held in 1932. It was agreed that the bi-centennial should be of a spiritual and educational type rather than a general exposition such as the Philadelphia Sesqui.

EPWORTH SUNDAY SCHOOL GIVES PERMIT FOR PLAY

Head of Xenia Home Asks Officers for Privilege of Producing Pantomime

The pantomime, which was prepared recently pre- sented at Epworth M. E. Church has just been asked by the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home, at Xenia, Ohio. Col. T. E. Andrews, former mayor of Marion and at present the head of the state institution, was in the audience when the pageant was staged here, and was so pleased with the production that he has asked permission to give it there next Easter using children from the home in all parts of the cast.

The pantomine, which was prepared entirely by members of the Epworth Sunday School, attracted an audience of 1,700 persons when it was given during the Christmas holidays in the Epworth Church auditorium. Permission has been granted to the home, officials of the local Sunday School announced today.

C., D. & M. INTERURBAN CARS TO CHANGE COLOR

First Traction Appears in New Coat of Deep Yellow; Work Done at Stratford

A change in the color of all C., D. & M. interurban cars is promised with the appearance early today of a deep yellow colored coach on the lines instead of the usual black car.

The newly painted interurban was No. 45, out of the car barns at Stratford, after being completely overhauled and repainted. A new baggage compartment is also a part of the equipment of the car now.

It was said today that the C., D. & M. Electric Co. is planning to repaint all its cars which operate between Marion and Columbus, giving them several coats of the deep yellow finish.

M. S. CONNORS HERE

M. S. Connors, general manager of the Hocking Valley Railroad, was in Marion today while on a journey from Columbus to points north on the road. Mr. Connors was traveling in his special car, No. 100.

310 ST. LOUIS STUDENTS GIVE FREE BLOOD TO POOR

St. Louis, Jan. 14—As a gift to the needy poor of the city, 310 medical and dental students at St. Louis University have offered free blood for transfusions.

Volunteers have been asked to give their blood for transfusion purposes at the rate of $50 a pint, the standard rate. Independent from any urging on the part of the faculty, the medical students replied with the offer to give their blood free.

The offering will be a big help to the City Hospital where many patients are treated free of charge and where blood for transfusion purposes is in great demand. University authorities accepted the student offering on condition that no student shall be submitted to a transfusion more than once in six months.

Ruts

MANY a man of brilliant promise has been lost in a rut of despair. Has seen his enthusiasm, his prospects, blighted! Himself powerless to prevent it—dully realizing that he no longer had the energy to stand the pace. . . . What can crush a man's spirit so completely?

Indeed, what is constipation? More—far more—than the average person realizes. It destroys health. It steals strength. It sickens the mind and leads to suffering and disease! Yet no one need be afflicted with this curse. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—promptly, safely.

Why part-bran products fail!

ALL-BRAN is 100% "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines, gently distending them—cleansing, removing wastes and poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is so small it scarcely accomplishes anything! Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because they know it is 100% bran—100% effective.

So different from dangerous pills!

How much better to rely upon healthful ALL-BRAN than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out all its nut-like flavor. Use it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package.

Don't risk part-bran substitutes. Insist on genuine Kellogg's. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

DALY, IDOL OF GOTHAM STAGE, DIES IN FIRE

Actor Loses Life When Apartment House Burns; Colorful Figure

New York, Jan. 14—Broadway was shocked yesterday that Arnold Daly, the actor, should lose his life in an apartment house fire, and Broadway will be lonely now that he is gone.

He was an indefatigable figure and already was being embalmed in the white way's traditions, even while his charred body awaited formal identification at the 47th-st police station.

Daly's personal history and that of the American stage have been unwound from the same skein for the last 25 years. He was an adventurer and a talented man. With equal gusto and success he had conceived the idea of petting a pretty damsel he didn't know with chrysanthemums and of producing George Bernard Shaw on Broadway. The first threatened to cost him his classic nose, the second the shirt off his back.

But he emerged from both encounters unruffled, debonair and smiling. He was full of anecdotes and no night club or fashionably gay restaurant party was complete without his presence.

He died at an ebb tide in his fortunes. His apartment was a fourth floor back walk-up—two rooms and a kitchenette overlooking a back yard off 51st-st. It was filled with the pictures, manuscripts, sticks and collected bric-a-brac.

He had flung open the hall door to be met by a rush of smoke and flame. It must have been like opening the side wall of a furnace. Daly never closed the door. He ran for the back window, but dropped across a chair before he made it.

UNDERGOING TREATMENT

Jackson Russell, Marion, Route No. 3 is undergoing treatment for an infected hand at City Hospital, it was reported today.

GOOD NEWS FOR SKINNY FOLKS

Increase Your Weight 10 or 15 Pounds

When you are underweight, it is the surest sign that the food you eat does not give you the nourishment you need to be strong and healthy and full of vitality. Put some good solid flesh on your bones, nourish the tissues properly and you will feel like a fighting cock.

Nothing acts so quickly and surely to correct the nutritive processes as a scientific digestive stimulant. Science tells us that stimulation of the digestive organs supplies the nourishment our bodies must have to grow healthy and to have the power to resist disease and to fight the breaking down of the life forces.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your net meal—see how much better you next meal—see how much better you tions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.—Adv.

-o- The New Book -o-

BY FRANCES JENNINGS

"DREAD DWELLING," Richmal Crompton's new appropriately named novel, is a story of a house.... an English country house, extraordinary only in its exceptional beauty. The novel was published by the Boni & Liveright Publishing Co.

It is not a mystery story, the plot does not center about a haunted house, as the name implies, but about a fine happy old English family, who, at the whim of an indulgent husband and father locate in a small country town moving into "Hanleigh" a charming old English mansion.

As the story unravels and we are introduced to an unusually happy, carefree, wealthy family whose consideration for each other, whose lovable natures almost exceed perfection, the house assumes a sinister, adverse influence over each member of that family. Or such is the opinion of Donald Crofton, college student and son of the household, about whom the action centers.

Donald first discovers the strange influence of the cold, austere but beautiful home when he remains alone in it for an evening and is subject to an overpowering fear of the unknown.... of a spirit of evil he feels lurking in the massive rooms of the house. He gains his second adverse impression, when, while admiring the beauty of the house in spite of himself, an aged hermit and character in the community, declares that there is "a black cloud suspended above that house."

After several months of living in the house each member of the family has been affected in a different manner.... each has developed either a spiritual or material complex. Babs has become jealous of her twin sister, Mr. Crofton becomes less responsible to his family and Mrs. Crofton, who is overly religious, becomes a fanatic, so radical as to cause a loss of her mental faculties and finally her death.

Each visitor, or rather all who dwell in the house for any length of time are also peculiarly affected, adding to young Crofton's growing conviction of the evil power of the house. A love story, an attempt at suicide on the part of Babs, are involved, creating suspense and adding to the interest of the story.

Although a book written purely for the purpose of entertaining, a novel concerned with plot, the progress of the story alone, the characters are well-presented and are of the type that one enjoys reading about. Donald Croton is an especially lovable character, being a very human, ordinary and lovable young man subject to psychic influences which cause him to suspect and inatimate object of bringing disaster upon his family until, when the house becomes his property upon his father's death, he deliberately ignites a blaze inside and gloatingly watches the flames devour a beautiful and valuable property from a distant hill.

ALTHOUGH published more than a year ago Bruce Barton's novel, "The Man Nobody Knows," retains a well-deserved popularity. Mr. Barton presents Jesus Christ from a new angle, in an entirely original light, calling attention to the fact that Christ, although endowed with divine power and goodness, was, after all, a man and subject to all temptations of man. The book is a powerful, conscientious portrayal of Christ, its fault lying in the fact, that, in his effort to present Christ as a man, a human being and one of us, Mr. Barton often commercializes the Saviour, making Him seem almost too worldly to retain His dignity as the Son of God. However the fault is only a minor one and after all . . . one of over-enthusiasm and so, forgivable.

Christ is first presented as the executive, in which chapter Mr. Barton tells how Christ went about His business . . . how He managed His divine mission. Mr. Barton claims that Christ's personal magnetism, His conviction, His patience, and His power to analyze character made of Him a successful executive.

Barton declares that Christ was essentially an out of doors man, that He so abounded in health that it flowed from Him creating health in others, that He spent the greater part of His life in the open and was endowed with "nerves of steel" which is only the possession of one of health.

In the chapter in which he discusses Christ as "a sociable man," Barton speaks of our Lord as "a great companion, a wonderful friend, a kindly indulgent, joy-loving Father."

Christ's method of dealing with His followers was always kindly, sympathetic but gently compelling, he says.

The chapters, "Christ as the Founder of Modern Business" and "His Advertisements," were those in which Barton, an advertising man at heart, becomes slightly imaginative and places the Christ on a level with men of business . . . modern men. Drawing illustrations from the Bible, Barton portrays Christ as an advertiser, a Man who leads other men to God through a simple, condensed and sincere manner of speech and an ability to arouse interest. Christ was the business man through and through when He said, "If you're forever thinking about saving your life, you'll lose it; but the man who loses his life shall find it." Barton declared.

Christ as "The Master" as He is presented in the last and most representative chapter of the book is portrayed as a strong, unfailing, humanity-loving and finally self-sacrificing leader, a consoler of men. A particularly beautiful passage and one in which Mr. Barton explains his unusual attitude toward the Saviour and the one with which the book is brought to a close are "You have let yourself picture Him as weak, as a man of sorrows, uninspiring, glad to die. There have been leaders who could call forth enthusiasm when their fortunes ran high. But He, when His enemies had done their worst, so bore Himself that a crucified felon looked into His dying eyes and saluted Him as king. Mr. Barton refers to one of the robbers crucified at the same time as Jesus, who said, "Remember me, when Thou comest into Thy kingdom."

A NUMBER of new books suggested as profitable and entertaining reading, were recently placed on the shelves at the City Library. Among the best of the new books are "Pleasure from Pictures" by Bailey, a volume for the "reading with a purpose" series; "Marie Antoinette" by Belloc, "Story of Philosophy" by Durant; "Americans from Abroad" by Gavit, also from the "reading with a purpose" series; "Best Plays of 1925-26" by Mantle; "How To Dress Well" by Story; "Poets of Ohio" by Venable; "Gentlemen of the Jury" by Wellman and "Best Short Stories of 1926" by O'Brien.

Of the list of fiction the following are suggested, "Romantic Comedians" by Glasgow, "Tomorrow Morning" by Parish; "Talk" by Sachs; and "Kingdoms of the World" by Tuttle.

Of the class of standard fiction, with which the library is well supplied, the following group of books is outstanding, "Sense and Sensibility" by Austen; "Jane Eyre" by Bronte; "Pilgrim Progress" by Bunyan; "Don Quixote" by Cervantes; "David Copperfield, "Old Curiosity Shop," "Oliver Twist," and "Tale of Two Cities" by Dickens; "Black Tulip," "Count of Monte Carlo," and "Three Musketeers" by Dumas; "Adam Bede" and "Mill on the Floss" by Elliott; "Scarlet Letter" by Hawthorne; "Guy Mannering" and "Quentin Durard" by Scott and "Ben Hur" by Wallace.

AMONG the stories that might be true to be found for children in the juvenile department of the library are the Franconia Stories by Abbott, selections from stories believed by an earlier generation; "The Lonesome Doll", by Farwell, the story of a little queen, a little peasant girl and a grand lonesome doll whose queenmother never played with her; "The Whistling Rock" by Brown, the story of how Loveday Blair, a seven-year-old child, spent a summer on Whistling Rock Island; "What Katy Did" by Coolidge, a new edition of a story loved by little girls of three generations; Peterkin Papers" by Hale, laughter provoking stories about the Peterkin family who had all kinds of sense but common sense; "Peggys Playhouses" by Hunt, the story of Peggy's vacation with her aunty; "Nelly's Silver Mine" by Jackson, an older book and one that will always be popular with children; "Little Missy" by Lindsay, a charming picture of the old south told by a little girl whose father owned a great plantation and many slaves in Alabama; "Wee Ann" by Phillips; "Peggy in Her Blue Frock" by White, a New England village story; "Tony" by White, dealing with Tonys adventures at the seashore and at his winter home; "When Molly Was Six" by White, a story which relates one delightful happening per month for the year that Molly was six years old; "The Magic Forest" by White, how a little boy, walking in his sleep, found himself with kind Indians in a Canadian forest,—a fascinating story for children; and "Swiss Family Robinson" a remarkable story of adventure that will live forever in the hearts of children.

Most actors prefer a small role to an entire loaf!

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

[illegible] from today is Valentine [illegible] if he was in there doing anything to the horse, but he wasn't; and then I noticed that a knot was out of a board about where the horse's nose came, and I was just going to put my head in the manger and look through the hole when a hand came through the hole with a lit match in it, and I grabbed the wrist and the bunch came and helped me and all that could get hold of it got hold and pulled, and then we took the rope off the horse and tied the wrist down to the edge of the manger, and Banjy went around to the side of the barn and looked and it was the Lost Bag of Tripe, and he had burnt Frank-horse's nose.

I didn't know whether to pull him all the way through the knot-hole and make him as long as a snake or what. Finely we left him there, and I opened and shut the door a few times so he could hear it, and then we told him we had a tub full of boiling water and were going to set him in it. So we blindfolded him and sot him in the barn pail and he hollered so my ant came out to see where the milk was and what was the matter, and the bunch skun out with his britches and she took me in the house by the ear, and when I told what he had done they all said it served him right, and then they laughed. I had to find his britches for him. The crook.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Dumple, the little red boy Woggiejig ran into the Bungleump where his mother, Um, was bouncing up and down making the beds, for it was afternoon and would soon be bedtime. Having no arms or legs Um, as did her husband Hopper had to jump up and down or roll about when they wanted to do any work.

"Hello, Dumple!" his mother said to the little red boy Woggiejig, as he came bounding in, for Dumple had four red wooden legs. "Aren't you home from school rather early," asked Um.

"The Lady Mouse Teacher let me out because I knew all my lessons," answered Dumple. "And please, Mother Um, may I have a cake?"

"I have just made some fresh jumbles," answered Um. "You may have one." For though Hopper and Um did not eat, being made of wood, sometimes the Woggiejigs nibbled at a bit of bread, cake or pie, say once a week.

"Oh, goodie! Jumbles!" cried Dumple as he ran toward the pantry. But when he had opened the big clay jar that Um told him to look in, the Woggiejig boy said: "Oh, Um! Why did you let a little mouse nibble a big hole in the middle of all the jumbles? Look!" and Dumple held up one of the cakes on his left front leg. There was a hole all the way through it. A hole through the jumble, not Dumple's leg, you know.

"The jumbles are spoiled!" sadly said the red Woggiejig.

"Nonsense!" laughed Um. "All jumbles have holes in them. I made mine that way. Now take a cake and run out to play. I want to make the beds."

So Dumple ran out with his jumble, walking on his hind legs and using his front legs as hands. He nibbled all around the edge of the jumble, taking little teeny, weeny bites to make the cake last longer.

"Oh, but it's good!" murmured Dumple, and he nibbled a bit faster until, all of a sudden, he gave a sort of surprised and frightened cry and said: "Oh, it's gone! It disappeared all of a sudden!"

Dumple began looking around on the ground, poking away the dead leaves, sticks and stones. He was looking for something, and pretty soon Uncle Wiggily, hopping along, saw the Woggiejig boy peering this way and that.

"What's the matter?" asked the funny rabbit.

"Oh, nothing, thank you," answered Dumple, but he did not stop looking.

"You must have lost something!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Tell me what it is and I'll help you look for it."

"Oh, no! It doesn't matter," sighed Dumples. "But it disappeared all of a sudden. However, Hopper and Um said I wasn't to bother you."

"But it's no bother for me to help you look for something," said the rabbit. "I'd like to do it. Besides, it may be an adventure for me. What is it you lost?"

"The hole out of my jumble," answered Dumple.

"The what?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily in surprise, for he could hardly understand it. "What do you mean—you lost the hole from your jumble?"

"Why, Um gave me a jumble, which is a round cake with a round hole in," explained the red Woggiejig. "I was eating around the edge of the hole, and, all of a sudden I ate my jumble all up and there wasn't anything left—not even the hole. And I didn't eat it, I'm sure, I thought maybe I might have missed the hole."

"Oh, you silly little Woggiejig!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Don't you know that when you eat the rim of a doughnut or jumble, the hole always disappears that way? There is nothing to keep the hole in place and it vanishes. It's the same with the holes in Swiss cheese."

"Well, then I guess it's all right," said Dumple. "But I was afraid that I had lost the best part of my jumble. But I haven't!" And just then along came the Woozie Wolf, hungry for ears. But Uncle Wiggily said to the bad chap:

"Look around here and see if you can find the hole from Dumple's jumble. If you do you may keep it to eat."

Along came the Woozie Wolf.

"I will!" snarled the Wolf, "and then I'll nibble your ears!" And so he began hunting all over for the hole in the jumble, and he may be searching yet, for all I know, for of course you can't find that kind of a hole. Anyhow Dumple learned something about jumbles. And if the wind doesn't whistle through the keyhole and blow the milk pitcher inside out, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Wumple's sled.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

STOCKS FLUCTUATE AS MARKET GOES LOWER

Some Go Up, but Stocks Are Dull and Heavy; Lehigh Valley Is Active

New York, Jan. 14—Persistent speculative selling of the industrial stocks, motors, the specialties and a few of the railroad shares produced further irregularity in the stock market today as the trend of prices was downward. Stiffening of the call loan rate to 4 per cent, consequent on the calling of loans to make good the deficits in bank reserves, was a factor of some importance, even though it was believed to be a temporary one.

Lehigh Valley was the star actor of the railroad group, carrying its advance to 111 1-4 on buying attributed to New York Central and Loree interests.

For the most part, the stock market was dull and heavy, while the listed bond market continued its advance, under the lead of the foreign government and the domestic railroad issues.

An early spurt in the oil stocks carried some of the Standard Oils and a few of the strong independents to slightly higher price levels, but there were plenty of stocks for sale at the better ranges and the rally ran into a brick wall.

The same is true of other important groups, including the coppers and the equipments, which were turned aside as soon as persistent selling pressure appeared.

TWO YOUTHS FINED ON POULTRY THEFT CHARGE

Each Assessed $50 by Municipal Judge Martin; Companion in Detention Home

Lloyd Biggs and Ralph Henry, 18-year-old boys arrested early Thursday morning at the Henry home, 460 W. Columbia st, on the charge of having broken into the poultry house of H. A. Zuspan at the rear of the Zuspan residence, 253 Park-blvd, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Municipal Judge Martin yesterday afternoon and were fined $50 and costs each.

Chester Henry, 17, brother of Ralph, also accused of being implicated in the poultry theft, was taken to the Juvenile Detention Home to await arraignment before Judge McNeal of the Juvenile Court.

Biggs and the older Henry boy were placed in the County Jail to await settlement of their fines. Biggs is a resident of Mt. Victory.

The three boys were taken into custody about 3:30 Thursday morning after Mr. Zuspan, awakened by a disturbance at the rear of his home, sent in a call for police, who found that the poultry building had been broken into and several fowls stolen.

Follow Tracks

Tracks in the snow led directly to the Henry home on Columbia-st where several chickens were found and identified as Mr. Zuspan's property, police say.

The Zuspan case was one of a series of poultry thefts reported from West Side residence districts during the last few weeks, police state. The poultry flock of Frank Barringer, who resides on Oney-ave, was raided on the night preceding the Zuspan robbery, records in the department show.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

An upward trend in the poultry market was forecast yesterday when wholesale prices on chickens took a slight advance. Heavy fowls went up two cents a pound, ducks went up two cents a pound and geese advanced four cents a pound. Eggs sold for 34 cents a dozen.

The wholesale advance did not make any change in the retail price today, and dressed chickens could still be purchased for 35 cents a pound. If the wholesale advance holds a slight advance in the retail quotations is likely. The wholesale price here stepped up in proportion to the advances made in the larger centers on poultry.

Oysters can now be purchased for 70 cents a quart, a drop of five cents from the quotation which has held since last fall.

Supplies of fresh vegetables and staple products showed strong today, and without change in price.

Thousands have got relief

SLEEPLESS WITH PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

Now sleeps well and can work with ease

"I could not sleep or do my work, but now I sleep well, walk and do my work with ease. I used Sloan's Liniment only once and it relieved me of my pain. It is just wonderful. I shall never be without it."

This is only one letter but it is typical of thousands that the makers of Sloan's have received, testifying to the amazing relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the nerves. It stirs up the bodily forces to get rid of the trouble that is causing the pain.

No need to rub, it's the medicine itself that does the work. Just put it on. Instantly it sends the fresh, healing blood tingling through the sick tissues—and the pain simply has to go. So clean and easy to use, too. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.

FIGHT COUGHS AND COLDS

Play Safe
Use this Natural Remedy

GERMS that cause colds are easily destroyed by the body that's fit and well. Nature sees to that. It's the tired body, the weakened system that can't fight the microbes of coughs, colds and grip.

Get your stomach right and keep it right—then reasonable care will keep you free from colds. Dillingham's Plant Juice is a pleasant-tasting, natural corrective of stomach irregularities. It stimulates liver and bowels, and keeps your stomach free from poisonous waste matter—it purifies your blood, tones up your system, and helps Nature to ward off coughs and colds.

Compounded only from plants, herbs, leaves and other natural products, Dillingham's Plant Juice works in Nature's way. See what Mr. William Wohlrad of Newark, N. J., thinks of this more than thirty year old family remedy:

"While suffering from catarrh of the stomach, I was afraid to go to a show or movie, as I would get coughing and could not stop. Everyone would turn around and look, and I felt so ashamed I would have to leave the theatre before the show was half over. I started with Plant Juice, and before my first bottle was gone I knew I was on the right track. Now my stomach is like a new one, and never gives me the least bit of trouble. I feel full of pep and energy. It's five years ago since I first used Plant Juice, and I have never had a day's sickness since."

CATALINA SWIMMERS ALL READY FOR PLUNGE

Race for $25,000 Prize Will Get Under Way Saturday Morning

Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., Jan. 14—The 153 contestants entered in the $40,000 Catalina swim, were quartered today on Catalina Island getting ready for what is expected to be one of the greatest swimming carnivals on record.

Included among the entries are some of the most famous paddlers in the world.

The race is scheduled to get under way between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning from the northeast isthmus of Catalina Island. The straightest line from this point to the mainland is approximately 20 miles long.

Of the women swimmers of note, Mrs. Lottie Schoemmel was the favorite to finish at least second to the entire field, in which case she would win the $15,000 second prize. This second prize, however, goes to the second swimmer only in the event that this person is a woman.

First prize calls for $25,000, be the winner either man or woman. The money was put up by William Wrigley, Chicago multi-millionaire backer of the event.

RAPS LIQUOR COURT

Magistrates Ought to Make Prisoners Work Out Terms, Claim

Hamilton, Jan. 14—Considerable comment was "going the rounds" here today on the report of the Butler County grand jury late yesterday in which that body vigorously denounced liquor courts presided over by magistrates.

The jurors suggested that "if officials are sincerely trying to enforce the prohibition law," the congestion of the jails in this county should be relieved and prisoners should be allowed to "work out" their fines instead of just whiling away their time in an overcrowded jail.
